LINCOLN WEHUNT.

Likes the Nugget.

The Hatless Man of Lumpkin County.

We present to our readers to-day the picture of Lincoln Wehunt, a resident of Lumpkin county, who is between 40 and 45 years of age and never wore a hat in his life, not because of his inability to buy one, but because he says that hats are useless and won't

The following letter from another member of the Consolidated Co. shows how the writer appreciates our efforts in giving non-residents who have interests here the correct news:

BRIGGSDALE, Ohio,
Aug. 27, 1901.

ED. NUGGET,
DEAR SIR:

Inclosed please find $1.00 for which send me the NUGGET for one year. I regret that I did not remit sooner, as I have missed the weekly visits of your fearless and truthful publication. I learn that the NUGGET is being run by the editor and proprietor and not specially to mislead non-resident investors. In other words, it tells the truth no matter whom it displeases.

Yours respectfully,
JOS. M. BRIGGS.

How Some Women Does.

Woman that is born in the latter half of the 19th century is of few days and full of high notions. She cometh forth like a flower and desireth a new $15 hat. She raiseth Cain and continueth therein until her hen-pecked husband pawneth his plow tools and buyeth a buggy. She looketh with scorn upon the man who worketh with his hands for a living and maketh much ado over the half starved pettifogger and the perfumed hardshaker. She turneth up her nose at the honest and industrious farmer and skillful mechanic and goeth into ecstasies and "jeemony fits" over the spike tailed dude who liveth off the hard earnings of his mother. She playeth on the piano and delighteth the ears of the ucher players who gather into her parlors, while her husband pineth in sorrow and taketh the benefit of the bankrupt law. She traineth up her children to despise them that work and her daughters to shun the work of the kitchen. She goeth all the high gates, while the butcher and baker pike their long overdue bills at the miserable husband who standeth them off while he dupeth other bakers and butchers. When he geth no more credit he pulleth his freight for greener pastures. She goeth to the most fashionable church in her silks and satins and consoleth her unrequited landlord and grocer by singing up-to-date anthems. She finally dieth and goeth—wither this deponent says not.

But the good sensible woman is not so.—Hornet.

A railroad company that operates coal mines in Pennsylvania recently prevented its striking miners from interfering with non-union workmen who were employed in pumping water out of the mines, by building a barbed wire fence 7 feet high about the pump-house and dynamo and then charging it heavily with electricity.

The Happiest Man.

Great powers and riches bring happiness to none and many of those who attain these glittering prizes find this out to their cost, sarcastically exclaims the Houston Post. The happiest man in the world, in all probability, is the progressive farmer. He labors enough only to insure health, sees his broad acres blossom year after year, into fruition of a bountiful harvest and has the respect and good will of his neighbors. He is more independent than any monarch on the throne in the wild world. He sleeps sounder and more peacefully in one night than does the Czar of Russia, amid his gold glare and fear in a month. And this condition will continue under the stimulus of the friendship of neighbors, when all the powerful rulers shall have been gathered to their fathers.

Blessed be the farmer. He is the man we look to through good and evil, in sickness and in health, in storm and in drouth. He is the mudsiller of our whole fabric.—Selected.

Money moves the world and pays for a lot of mean whiskey. It can prevent the truth and knock reason off the perch in the fourth round. "Money makes the mare go." For money, man will work, sweat, bleed and lie. It is the loadstone of activity, the north star of energy, the achme of man's highest ambition. More people want a part of it and a few want it all. Money getting is a virtue and a crime. With it is blended prayers, prevarications and loathing; poverty, peevishness and parasites; misers, misery and meanness; blood, blis and blüggood; hell, heaven and happiness; sedition, salvation and suicide; brain, brawn and boodle; death, debt and despair. Money is some people's god which they worship with a devotion and sacrifice which puts the Hindoo in the shade. Yet, when we are called upon to shuffle off this mortal coil, it is but a drop and raises up like Banquo's ghost to accuse us of lost opportunities, wherein we might have added to the world's store of usefulness and happiness.—James Noel Johnson.

The state tax rate has been fixed at $5.34, the limit fixed by law. Notwithstanding this it will fall short of meeting the appropriations already made of about $550,000, unless the legislature makes deep cuts.

A Chance at Big Money.

The opportunities offered to farmers by the two great fairs to be held this fall are in advance of all past records. With Atlanta offering $1,000, $500 and $300 for the best county exhibits, and Savannah offering even larger prizes for exhibits of this character, besides the splendid premiums offered by both fairs for individual exhibits, should inspire every one.

Crop conditions are now favorable in most sections of the state, and every county should be represented at Atlanta and Savannah. To say nothing of the money to be won, it is true that a county can have no better advertisement, for presentation is an argument to home-seekers, than a first-class agricultural exhibit at these great fairs. The premiums here are liberal in every particular, and may be had upon application to Secretary T. H. Martin at Atlanta, or to Secretary J. C. Shaw at Savannah. The railroads transport county exhibits free of charge.

Plenty of Amusements.

The management of the Southern Inter-State Fair, to be held at Atlanta this fall, is determined to supply ample amusement. In fact it has been decided to have a continual amusement program lasting from 11 o'clock a. m. to 11 o'clock p. m. Twenty thousand dollars has been appropriated, and will be spent on special attractions. The Fair Association has determined to get the best of everything going, and there is to be fun all day long, and a carnival every night.

To all and each of the above named defendants.
By order of the court you and each of you are hereby notified that the above named plaintiffs have applied to the Superior Court of Lumpkin county Georgia for partition of lots of land numbers 241 and 242 both lying and being in the 4th district and first section of Lumpkin county, Georgia and that their partition will be heard on the October term 1901 of the Superior Court of said county of Lumpkin which said term will begin on the 2d Monday in October next.

Witness the Honorable John B. Bates, Judge of said court, this 25th day of August 1901.

THE NUGGET.

DAHLONEGA, SEPT. 6, 1901.
Entered at the Dahlonega, Ga. P. O.
as Second Class Matter.

Defaulting tax collector Sanford of Floyd county has resigned.

Cotton is being destroyed in Sumpter county by the bud worms.

Mrs. O. P. Swearingen, of Vienna, Ga., committed suicide the other day by jumping into a well.

The shortage in the corn crop is figured at 875,000,000. This will cause "corn dodgers" to be very scarce in some localities.

Little Glenn Byrd, son of Col. Phil. G. Byrd, died in Atlanta last week from the effects of two fractures of the skull caused by falling from a window at the State Capitol.

The amount yet unpaid for the building of the Fannin county court house is $2,620.00, and Mr. McAfee, the contractor, has commenced legal proceedings to try to collect it.

T. W. Faircloth, a prominent citizen and justice of the Peace of Decatur county, has been arrested by the U. S. authorities charged with making false affidavits for certain applicants for pensions. The penalty is not more than $500 or imprisonment not to exceed five years.

At the Tennessee Copper Co.'s smelting works, McCay, Tenn., Allen Richards was burned to death by the overturning of a large converter holding several hundred gallons of molten copper, last week. George Fortner and Sam Ray were severely burned. One of them has since died.

The body of Thomas C. Black, who was recently drowned in White county, was found last Friday in the Chattahoochee river by a young man named Dorsey six miles below the ford he attempted to cross a week previous. There was a reward of $250 for his body. Black carried an insurance to the amount of $8,000.

The authorities of North Carolina are getting after Sheriff Lovinggood of Fannin county, Ga., with a sharp stick. Some time in May he went across the line and arrested and brought back a fleeing fugitive. He has been prosecuted for bigamy and the Governor of North Carolina has granted a requisition for the return of Lovinggood to North Carolina to be tried for the offense.

Thomas Bell, of Gainesville, became wrathful at an article written by Bro. Craig of the Eagle last Friday about the recent management of the reunion of Confederate soldiers in that city, causing the two gentlemen to hit, resulting in Craig receiving a bruised head and Bell a split lip. The bursted pieces were repaired by the use of coat plaster, disfiguring both for a few days only.

The big increase in taxes is causing prominent citizens of Georgia to begin to look about and see if there is no way to stop some of the leaks. Pension Commissioner Lindsey is preparing a bill providing for an amendment to the pension laws creating inspectors and examiners. One inspector to be appointed for each congressional district, none of whom will be allowed to pass upon the claim of any one in their respective districts. Another proposition is to create a law providing for the compilation of a roster of every Confederate soldier who served in the army. And the most important one is for the passage of an act allowing none but indigent veterans and widows of veterans to draw a pension. This is the one that should be passed. It is too hard on tax payers to have to pay men's money who are amply able to live without it. For instance there is a soldier drawing a pension in Lumpkin county for the loss of a finger which does not interfere with any of his work whatever. We have heard him say that he wished they would do away with such a law.

Mining Notes

The Hager boat, near New Bridge, is doing well.

Work still progresses down on the Whim Hill property.

Birch Bros. sold their mining boat Tuesday at auction to Mr. Breyman, of Toledo, for $1,515, who will continue its operations. Success.

Edgcomb and Hutchins made a clean up last week on lot 810 which caused them to smile, and you may know that they are making money, for miners unsuccessful can't raise a smile or even look pleasing.

The gold rocks exhibited here last Sunday by Wharton Anderson, of the Calhoun mine, were perfect beauties. Mr. Anderson is making mining pay big. It doesn't require any process to make this mine pay except the pick and shovel, plenty of water and good management. This is why they are successful down at the Calhoun. Another is they have plenty of gold.

The drifting in No. 1 shaft still continues down at the Hand mine, extending about four hundred feet from the very large shaft. It is claimed that they are trying to strike the Antonia vein, but our native miners are of the opinion that they have already gone far enough but missed it. How far this expensive search will continue we cannot tell. It looks to us that it would have been better had they followed the vein where it was already discovered and saved this expensive shaft and drift which has cost many thousands of dollars until it becomes necessary to sink one, then they would know exactly where to locate a shaft if necessary to strike the vein.

We paid the Crown Mountain plant and mine a visit last Sunday and saw gold on the plates, in the fumes and the veins where it came from, convincing us beyond a doubt that this is one of the biggest and best mines in Georgia, and is being conducted in such a manner as to make it profitable. No useless expenditures for a show only. The shaft houses cost about $25 each, and will answer the same purpose as the one at the Hand costing over $9,400. The big pump keeps three giants running, floating so much ore to the plant as to necessitate the addition of two more Huntington mills, now being put in as fast as workmen can do it.

Prof. Colvin, of Dahlonega, recently wrote a letter to the Engineering and Mining Journal at New York, telling what a wonderful thing the Hix Process is, but the editor of that paper threw cold water on it by saying in substance that similar processes for saving gold had been a failure for the past forty years. The editor of that paper is well posted and we would advise capitalists to steer cautiously until they see farther in this matter. It is true that if the Hix Process was introduced into this country would benefit us all here even if it proved to be a failure, but we for one don't want people to spend their money unless they are able to get something in return.

We understand that Mr. Breyman is going to start up the Standard mine soon under the old Georgia system. When this is done money will be made where there is no sulphureted ore. Yes, throw the new gold "savings" processes into the creek, do away with all stiff collard superintendents and have more hands to work than bosses, and in selecting the latter be sure to get men who can work some themselves should it become necessary then we will repeat again some benefits will be derived from the operation. Entirely too much time is being lost in hunting up and experimenting with so called gold savers. Put up ten, twenty and forty stamp mills at different places and men in charge of them who know gold when they see it, then we will have a mining boom right and one that will be permanent.

Gus Kassel drank bed bug poison in Atlanta the other day and died because a young lady wouldn't learn to love him. After taking the poison he continued writing words of love to her and begging her to visit his grave, until he grew so weak that he dropped his pen and life faded away.

There are 78 veterans in the Soldiers Home in Atlanta from the following counties to wit: Walker 1, Washington 3, Fulton 15, Oglethorpe 3, Morgan 4, Jefferson 1, Banks 1, Sumpter 1, Gordon 2, Richmond 4, Dooley 1, Elbert 1, McIntosh 1, Rockdale 1, DeKalb 1, Hall 1, Charlton 2, Troup 2, Walton 1, Forsyth 1, Spalding 1, Whitfield 3, Polk 3, Warren 1, Gwinnett 3, Laurens 1, Bartow 1, Green 1, Habersham 2, Cobb 2, Dougherty 1, Jasper 1, Pulaski 1, Wilkinson 1, Clayton 1, Burke 1, Johnson 1, Houston 1, Bibb 3, Charlton 1, Henry 1. Total seventy-eight.

Some of the Fannin county boys are said to have played a good prank on Deputy United States Marshal, T. W. Craig, here, last Saturday night. He was on the outlook for some of the boys with some liquor and ran onto two of them with some jugs in a wagon. The boys, team, jugs, and all were taken into custody and brought to town. In the absence of Commissioner Chastit they were carried before Justice Cornett for trial. Marshal Craig is said to have stated the facts as nearly as possible and the justice then asked the defendants if they had anything to say. They insisted that it was not liquor that the officer had caught them with and asked that the jugs be brought into court. They were brought in and an investigation made, when it was found that the jugs contained nothing but pure clear water and the boys of course were released. Now they have a good joke on Marshal Craig.—Blac Ridge Post.

How To Gain Flesh

Persons have been known to gain a pound a day by taking an ounce of SCOTT'S EMULSION. It is strange, but it often happens.

Somehow the ounce produces the pound; it seems to start the digestive machinery going properly, so that the patient is able to digest and absorb his ordinary food, which he could not do before, and that is the way the gain is made.

A certain amount of flesh is necessary for health; if you have not got it you can get it by taking

Scott's Emulsion

You will find it just as useful in summer as in winter, and if you are thriving upon it it don't stop because the weather is warm.

Asthma Cure Free!

Asthmalene Brings Instant Relief and Permanent Cure in All Cases.

SENT ABSOLUTELY FREE ON RECEIPT OF POSTAL. WRITE YOUR NAME AND ADDRESS PLAINLY.

There is nothing like Asthmalene. It brings instant relief, even in the worst cases. It cures when all else fails.

The Rev. C. F. WELLS, of Villa Ridge, Ill., says: "Your trial bottle of Asthmalene received in good condition. I cannot tell you how thankful I feel for the good derived from it. I was always a slave, chained with putrid sore throat and Asthma for ten years. I despaired of ever being cured. I saw your advertisement for the cure of this dreadful and tormenting disease, Asthma, and thought you had over-spoken yourselves, but resolved to give it a trial. To my astonishment the trial acted like a charm. Send me a full size bottle."

Rev. Dr. Morris Wechsler, Rabbi of the Cong. Bnai Israel, New York, Jan. 3, 1901.

Drs. TAFT BROS. MEDICINE CO., Gentlemen: Your Asthmalene is an excellent remedy for Asthma and Hay Fever, and its composition alleviates

all troubles which combine with Asthma. Its success is astonishing and wonderful. After having it carefully analyzed, we can state that Asthmalene contains no opium, morphine, chloroform or other. Very truly yours, Rev. Dr. MORRIS WECHSLER.

AVON SPRINGS, N. Y., Feb. 1, 1901.

DR. TAFT BROS. MEDICINE CO. Gentlemen: I write this testimony from a sense of duty, having tested the wonderful effect of your Asthmalene for the cure of Asthma. My wife has been afflicted with spasmodic asthma for the past 12 years. Having exhausted my own skill as well as many others, I chanced to see your sign upon your windows on 120th street, New York. I once obtained a bottle of Asthmalene. My wife commenced taking it about the first of November. I very soon noticed a radical improvement. After using one bottle her Asthma has disappeared and she is entirely free from all symptoms. I feel that I can conscientiously recommend the medicine to all who are afflicted with this distressing disease. Yours respectfully, O. L. PHELPS, M. D.

DR. TAFT BROS. MEDICINE CO. Gentlemen: I was troubled with Asthma for 22 years. I have tried numerous remedies but they have all failed. I ran across your advertisement and started with a trial bottle. I found relief at once. I have since purchased your full size bottle, and I am very grateful. I have finally got four children and for six years was unable to work. This testimony you can make such use of as you see fit. Home address, 255 Livingston st., S. RAPHAEL, 97 East 129th st., City.

TRIAL BOTTLE ABSOLUTELY SENT FREE ON RECEIPT OF POSTAL.

Do not delay. Write at once, addressing DR. TAFT BROS. MEDICINE CO., 79 East 120th Street, N. Y. City.

THE NUGGET

DAHLONEGA, SEPTEMBER 6, 1901

A number of capitalists in the city.

Macaroni and white fish at Crissons.

Is your house insured? If not, why not?

Type writer paper for sale at this office.

College stationery for sale by J. F. Moore.

The next session of the Colored Baptist Association will convene in Dahlonega.

Col. R. M. Bryson is holding forth at the sheriffs office until the Price building is completed.

We understand that another store will soon be opened out in the building just beyond Main street bridge.

The most of the camp meetings and dog days are over in this section, now maybe we will have some dry weather.

While pulling grass in Prof. Vickers's garden the other day Joe Forest gathered up a pilot but he put it down.

Mrs. S. A. Bullock, of Macon, a daughter of G. W. Walker, of this county, is on a visit to her many relatives in this section.

The old house on main street belonging to Crane and others on College street, another old land mark, has been torn down. It was put up by Harrison W. Riley more than fifty years ago.

We stated last week that Capt. Ingersoll had bought the Union Store stock of goods. This is a mistake originating from the fact that the Captain purchased a bill of goods and our informant felt confident that such a change had taken place.

H. A. Butler, who used to reside in this county, was up a few days ago selling leather manufactured by him in Gwinnett. Mr. Butler is a good tanner and his leather never fails to sell. He prefers living in this county and we hope the day is not far distant when our county can afford at least one tannery and this useful man will be with us again.

Irish potatoes are going to be a good price on account of the big shortage in the crop this year. A drummer was here the other day offering 75 cents per bushel for them delivered in Atlanta. Often our farmers in this section sell them at a low price in the fall to merchants below, some of whom assort and ship them back to our friends in the spring at $1.25 per bushel for Eastern seed and we have to give 50 or 60 cents for enough to plant a little patch.

The Gainesville Eagle states that the Dunlap sheals in that county recently burglarized for by the Gainesville and Dahlonega Electric Railway Co., has been paid for and that the deed is now upon record in the Clerk of the Superior Courts office. Doesn't this look like business? General Warner leaves this week with the bonds for the purpose of securing the money to build the road. What more will it take to convince you that Dahlonega is going to have a railroad?

We are told that a northerner came to Gainesville in search of a man having a gold mine to sell some two weeks ago. He was cited to H. D. Jaquish, owner in this county. They came up and he expressed himself as well pleased with the mine, borrowing $40 from Mr. Jaquish and getting him to stand good for a suit of clothes until his money was received. Then the stranger got John Hutcherson into and rode to Gainesville. Not returning on time those interested went to learn the cause, and it was not long before they ascertained that their man had put the mule in Hope's stable and departed for parts unknown, leaving his ten days' board bill unpaid at Mr. Hutcherson's in addition to what he secured from Mr. Jaquish.

Miss Nottie Woodward has returned from an extended visit to Gainesville.

Miss Bertie Padgett and Mr. Tom Canady were wedded in this county last week.

O. Hager, who is dredging near New Bridge, gave us a pleasant and profitable call last Tuesday.

J. R. Arnold, of North Carolina, was bound over this week for making and selling liquor in this county.

The hearts of Mr. Wm. Grindle and Miss Julia Lewis of this county, were made to beat as one the other day.

Fate Johnson killed an old mother snake down on Cane Creek last Tuesday with 20 young ones each ten inches long.

At John Moores you can get best steak at 70 cents per pound, chuck 3 for 25 cents, roast 7 and 8, stew beef 5 and 6.

A female is out in Nimblerill district scattering her knowledge of the Bible and taking up collections for the same.

Col. Price has agreed to answer the injunctions against the city council at the next term of Lumpkin Superior Court.

Dr. Stow removed a large tumor from E. Carroll's shoulder last Tuesday which had been there for the past fifteen years.

Our friend J. L. Pierce kindly remembered us with another fine watermelon this week. May he live long and continue to prosper.

If you need any nice fall millinery call on Mrs. Strickland, who can suit you both in styles and prices, either for barter or cash. No more credit hereafter.

Every body behaved so well during the month of August that the marshal didn't have to make a single arrest. Let this continue. It speaks well of our town.

The public school opened last Tuesday with an attendance of 191 pupils, to the delight of every friend of the school. It is an institution that is accomplishing much good and we all feel proud of it.

The city council is right after the howling dogs. An ordinance is now before the body to be passed at the next meeting killing all such. So if you have one that howls it is a goner unless you carry it out of the corporate limits.

Some of the camp meetings going on last week made their trip profitable by bringing back a lot of liquor which they watered and "doctored," making two gallons out of one. Then sold it at 75 cents a quart, realizing about $6.00 per gallon.

At this time Gainesville has failed to raise any of the $15,000 asked for by the Electric Railway Co. The directors and several other citizens are down there now seeing whether their citizens mean to do anything. If not the proposed line from Dahlonega to that city may yet be connected with the Southern road at some other point.

The state and county taxes of Lumpkin will be $1.20 on the hundred this year. This won't run the county through the next year but it is thought best to borrow some money when necessary than to increase taxes any more. Maybe then we all be in better shape to meet them and the state taxes will not be so high. Judge Huff went into office with debts amounting to about $800 against the county and he wants to get all claims settled soon as he can without injuring the people.

The white coppers are playing the devil with some of the negroes over at the marble works in Pickens county, causing them to leave in every direction and that on fast time. One made such a remark about a white woman the other day as to cause them to take him out and whip him so badly that when he went to sit down he would jump like he was stung by a wasp. One of them passed through Dahlonega the other day. Let the helpless females be protected.

Can you afford to take all the risk of loss by fire or lightning?

Our old friend M. M. London was in town last Tuesday for the first time in four years, although he lives within about five miles of the place. His health has been bad but he is improving rapidly and begins to look all right again.

Your attention is called to the ad. of the Dahlonega Hotel to be found in this issue. This hotel is run by J. F. Castleberry, formerly of the Hall House, whose manner of conducting a first class hotel is too well known to the most of the traveling public to receive any comment from us.

The revenue officials made an effort to arrest Howard Walker, formerly of this county, a few days ago over in Tennessee, but he got away. He was wanted by the authorities for taking out another persons letter at Dahlonega some time ago and putting the check in it to his own use.

The health of Dahlonega was never better since we can remember. There is not a single case of fever in town now, and hasn't been but one this summer and it was not contracted here. The management of the sanitary committee of the council has been most excellent and deserves the praise of every citizen of the place.

Mrs. R. Griffin was arrested by the sheriff last week and made bond, charged with fornication and adultery. She has been making Uncle Dolph Sullins her headquarters, who also made bond recently. The last grand jury didn't even want this old man to have a cook. So we guess hereafter he will have to do his own housework or hand in a $1.50 to the ordinary.

Mr. Loveless went down to Gainesville last week to secure an attorney to bring suit against the Dahlonega Consolidated Co. for the injuries he sustained while at work for the company some time ago in the Mary Henry shaft. It was understood that the company or some of its managers, would give him work to do as soon as he recovered, but this they refused or neglected. Not only this, when Mr. Loveless notified them of his intention they told one of his sons who was at work for them, also hurt at the same time, that they had nothing else for him to do, like he could control his father. We understand that their doctor bills have not been paid. This is a strange way of doing business and we are not surprised at their operations being a failure.

Nearly every colored person in Dahlonega attended camp meeting at Rock Springs in White county last week. Both the old, the young and the cripple lay aside every thing else and started out for the eighteen miles journey Saturday night with baskets filled with ham, eggs, chickens, cakes, etc., enough to have done them a week at home or on any other occasion. One negro woman left her infant behind screaming. She was bound to see the folks and have some fun even if the child cried itself to death. She could very well afford to lose one child and go to camp meeting for they come but once a year. So they all went and stayed until a late hour Sunday, returning at the hour the night until away up into the day Monday, looking tired and sleepy. Tom Clark brought up the rear with a bandaged head. Tom had tried to cut Joe Longstreet and Joe brought Tom down with a ground biscuit, causing him to imitate a dead man for some time. Joe turned the bottoms of his feet to the camp ground in haste. No other very serious trouble although all the blockade liquor for miles around in that section was used up. Well, we believe too that "Babe" Coffe knocked his brother Almon down with a pistol. Though this amounts to nothing during camp meeting times. All this "sport" is a very big help to the officers of court of White county, but pretty heavy on her tax payers.

The child of Walter Watkins died in the lower part of the county a few days ago.

W. J. Burt bought the half mineral interest in the Brackett property advertised, for $25 last Tuesday.

Little Garland Strickland, of Dahlonega, is now enjoying himself down at Ingleside, Ga., at the home of his friends Capt. and Mrs. F. W. Hall.

L. B. Donovan, one of the members of the Crown Mountain Co., is here from the north looking after his interests, accompanied by his wife and little boy.

A number of visitors stopping at Porter Springs were down last week taking in the gold mining sights, some of whom had never been at a mine before, causing their curiosity to be excited to some extent.

D. T. Harris, of Murrayville, was up to see us last Monday in company with his son Smith Harris. Always glad to see them. The latter has just received an appointment in the U. S. army as Lieutenant, which we are all proud of.

It would be well enough for our citizens to remember that the city tax book closes first day of October. This is the time fixed by law and it will not be extended. Don't let a fine be issued against you. The principal together with all other taxes is high enough.

They had another runaway match down at Keystone last Saturday, being Miss May Hollis field and Mr. Wilkes Loggins, who were wedded in the road. We are informed that the citizens in that vicinity are talking of building a house at that place for runaways so they won't have to be married in the public highways.

Now that Birch Bros. have sold their boat they will return to their homes at St. Louis shortly. Both are high toned clever gentlemen and we dislike to see them leave. It might not be a miss to state that they have made a success of mining, clearing more than $25,000 in five years, so we are reliably informed. How? By good common sense management.

Judge Huff had two roads cases to dispose of last Monday causing a good deal of interest to be taken by parties in the immediate neighborhoods. One was to abolish the road by Judge Britains farm. This failed to carry. The other was to establish a new road down in the lower part of the county which we might call the Dale road, causing about 25 of the citizens of Auraria district to come forward who opposed it, testifying that it would be more expensive than profit and Judge Huff not wishing to originate a thing of this kind complied with their requests.

"Shot Gun" Walker excited the curiosity of a number of our citizens early Monday morning by coming to town in haste hatless and shoeless with a gun on his shoulder. It was soon ascertained that he and his son Luther had a row that morning with Lewis Pruitt resulting in Lewis knocking both down. The sight of blood dripping from "Shot Guns" head caused him to be angry and there is no telling what he would have done had he got in shooting range of his antagonist. Upon reflection Walker decided to fight Lewis by a process of law, and soon after reaching town borrowed a bat and pair of shoes from merchant Frank Jones and proceeded to the squires house and procured a warrant charging Lewis with assault with intent to murder. In a short while Pruitt swore out a warrants for both and the trials commenced. Squire Allen and Worley both presided. After hearing the testimony Pruitt was bound over in a hundred dollar bond to the Superior Court for assault and battery. Walkers waived examination whose cases went the same direction. Luther and Pruitt had a fuss the day before was the cause of the fracas between the three.

Harry Gurley, of Dahlonega, who has been in the wholesale grocery house of a firm in Anniston, Ala., for two or three weeks seems to be very well pleased with his job.

The little boys of Dahlonega have organized a smoking club. Any one big enough to draw the smoke from a cigarette or cheroot is admitted to membership. Lodge hours frequent. Place of meeting near the old Public Spring on Water street.

James Bearden, one of our patrons residing in Dawson county gave us a business call last Saturday. Mr. Bearden is now 67 years of age and has always lived on the farm where he was born. He follows farming and has found it more beneficial to remain at one place and work than to be moving about wasting time in hunting a better home. Mr. Bearden requests us to state that Bartley Bearden joined the church at Oakland, Texas, Aug. 1st, and his brother united himself with the church at New Hope on the 28th of the same month in Georgia.

The road commissioners of this district are determined to have the roads worked out or punish those who fail to discharge their duty. Last Saturday Will Anderson, a white defaulter, was sent to jail for ten days and young John Forest had to pay $4 to keep from going. The present road law is a hardship on poor boys and men but they will have to endure it until it is changed, if ever. Both these boys are poor, having not a single thing to travel the roads but still they are forced to perform road duty same as those owning hundreds of dollars worth of stock and other property valued at thousands.

Last Saturday there was a happy meeting in Dahlonega, being between David Pruitt and his 17 or 18 year old son, who had not seen each other in about 12 years; county all these long years. Mr. Pruitt was divorced from his sons mother many years ago who married again and moved to another part of the county and settled down; the first wife and her son remaining where they were, neither coming to town until the other day the boy commenced riding the Ellijay mail, and last Saturday when he came his father was sitting on the bench at one of the doors leading to the post office. Mr. Howard, clerk in the office, seeing that they paid no attention to each other, asked the lad if he and his father didn't speak. "Where is he at?" was the quick question. As soon as the boy was shown he approached his father and spoke but was not recognized until making himself known. Then they sit down and chatted happily together till the carrier had to depart with his mail.

Last Saturday soon after two strange negroes passed through Dahlonega they were followed by Sheriff Davis and City Marshal Harbison and brought back to town, one of them supposed to be a murderer who was wanted at another place, the sheriff having a description. After a thorough examination they were turned loose and told to go as nuther filled the description exactly. They claimed to be from Jackson county and said that it was their intention to go to Gilmer county in search of work. Both were yellow and carried pistols in their valises. They were very much excited after being arrested on account of the big crowd gathering at the court house to learn what it meant, but the officers informed them that they need not be alarmed as neither would be harmed. The eldest said that he was arrested once before by a crowd of about 60 persons, supposed to be a negro named Holt, wanted for a bad crime, resembling him so that they talked like lynching him right on the spot. To save further annoyance this negro had better have a painter touch him up a little to keep him from favoring so many different criminals.

J. E. Wilkins is now handling the yard stick at E. E. Crissons.

The divine services at the Dahlonega camp ground last Sunday were largely attended.

Merchant Frank Reese "stepped down" to Atlanta this week to lay in his fall stock of goods.

The weather man has been in control for the past week giving us beautiful sun shiny days. Thanks.

On the 15th of November J. H. McGee will remove his stock of goods from where he now occupies to the stand now occupied by Anderson & Jones, at which time they expect to occupy their own new building.

Remember we don't advertise that we will charge so much for publishing obituaries and then put them in for nothing, like one paper we could mention. All obituary aries appearing in the Nugget are paid for at two cents a line.

A big crowd of our Auraria patrons and friends were in Dahlgons on business last Monday. They are like kin folks and we are glad to meet them at any time. Not exactly like kinfolks either because they always pay their way.

All persons who are indebted to me by note or account are hereby notified to settle the same at once. All notes and accounts which were carried over last year will be put in hands of officers for collection if not paid against 1st day of October next. Respectfully, J. E. McGEE.

We understand that Rev. W. L. Harrell, of Toccoa, Ga., who has been attending the Presbyterian church at this place has resigned. There are only a few members here belonging to this denomination and it is very discouraging we suppose for a man to come so far to preach to such a small congregation.

Work has been progressing this week on the removal of jeweler McGuire's building from the Masonic lot to his brothers property below the house formerly occupied by Judge Brittain, on which another story will be added and G. McGuire will keep his coffin for the benefit of the dead or the friends of the departed, as you please to call it.

A big meeting has just closed at Mill Creek church in this county at which there were 25 or 30 professions and about 15 joined the church, services being conducted by Revs. Blackburn, Dowdy and Higgins. It was a Union meeting and Rev. Mr. Parks was the moderator. Both of his boys misbehaved so that warrants had to be issued for them, causing their father to become mad and depart leaving the church in the hands of the Lord the devil and these ministers.

We learn that no one can be induced to come to college this session from the vicinity where the young man lies who was supposed to have been tight during the last session of the institution and fell off of a rock wall. Let it be understood that this college is not a Keeley Institute, although a strong guard is thrown around those who love to tip the glass, the president and professors doing everything they possibly can for the welfare of each and every young man entering the doors of the N. G. A. College.

It seems that Mr. O'Kelley, the recent pastor of the Baptist church at Dahlonega, has a bad opinion of the city, having refused, so we are reliably informed, to recommend the N. G. A. College to a gentleman who wished to send his son to school here. Why it is that the person is so down on us we cannot see. It's true that but few decided to go to heaven by the Baptist route while he was here, so did they neglect to take the Methodist path. Notwithstanding all this there are many good people here and Dahlonega nor Lumpkin county is no nearer hell than Hall county, where this gentleman resides.

Henry Chisholm, of Cleveland, O., a Yale graduate, society, favorite and heir to a fortune, spends nine hours a day as workman in the Champion Rivet Works. Twice each month he goes to the cashier's office, and is handed an envelope containing his pay, which amounts to $1.75 a day. He began work the day he arrived home from college and has not missed a day since. He chose this line of work because he believes the professions are crowded, and that a young man will find his best chances in this field of labor.

The vagrant law is probably less enforced than any of the statutes. If it were there would be fewer cases of petty larceny before the justices' courts. It is but a short step from loafing to vagrancy, and the cities and towns are filled with loafers. Make the loafers work or move on. The able-bodied chronic vagrant who will not work when a job is offered him should be sent to the county farm. Little Rock should set the place for getting rid of these objectionable creatures. There is a splendid field here for police work of this character.—Arkansas Gazette.

We understand that a certain young man of Dahlonga says that what we said recently about some disreputable conduct carried on at Cane Creek falls by a few parties was a lie. Now, we got our information from a reliable spectator, who is old enough and gritty enough to mash this fellows mouth, and if he does not feel like it and it really becomes necessary we can do it ourselves.

A pot of gold containing something over $20,000 was found in a remote precinct of Madison county, Ala., by Frank Jacks, a poor farmer. The gold was hidden away in a spring which had been used for many years. It is believed the gold was hidden during the war.

Forty million of people are threatened with starvation in Russia, because of crop failure, and it is said that it will be difficult to relieve them for want of good roads.

Human Daring.

Everyone has the greatest possible admiration for the man who dares. There are thousands of people in the world today who are bolder than ever before to the matter of inventing some new means for death-defying exhibitions.

The question is not as to who will risk their lives; there are thousands awaiting an opportunity. The only question involved is one of method, for the public demands more than a mere exhibition of brutal recklessness; there must be grace as well.

So the man, or woman, who perfects some act of great daring, combined with ease, or more properly speaking, apparent ease of performance, is the individual whom every one applauds. The act must entail risk of life and limb, but this risk must be assumed with apparent carelessness. The actor must defy all natural laws, and laugh at fate, for the public demands a smiling face.

There is probably no one man in the United States who has devised so many daring enterprises as Charles G. Kilpatrick. He was first heard of by reason of his successful attempt to ride down the steps of the capitol at Washington, on a bicycle. This marvelous feat Kilpatrick accomplished successfully, and by reason of the same, became famous. Since that time Mr. Kilpatrick has invented and performed dozens of marvelous feats.

None so daring, however, as his famous automobile ride down an inclined plane. This marvelous feat was performed for two months at Madison Square Garden and excited the wonder and admiration of all New York. The press and public were unanimous in saying that it was the most marvelous and astonishing feat ever performed by a human being.

Mr. Kilpatrick will perform his great automobile act at the Southern Interstate Fair, to be held in Atlanta this fall, and the Southern public will have an opportunity of witnessing the most sensational act ever performed in the United States, or Europe.

Thomas Arbuckle, a hardworking farm laborer in Scott county, Indiana, has not swallowed any food for four years. He put it in his stomach, however, through a hole in his side. The hole is an artificial one, in consequence of the closing of the cardiac orifice by typhoid fever. The case is almost exactly similar to that of Alexis St. Martin, through whose side the whole process of digestion was visible, and who, in this way furnished almost all the knowledge physicians now possess of the stomach and its workings. One of the things observed in his case was that, when the stomach was fairly livid with irritation from improper diet, the only sensation he experienced was a slight headache, showing that when a severe headache results the wrong done the stomach must be extreme. These cases lead one to speculate what would be the result on the general health of mankind if everyone had a window in his stomach and could witness the effects of diet impudence. The probability is it would greatly prolong the life of some people and have absolutely no effect on others.

Have you a sense of fullness in the region of your stomach after eating? If so you will be benefited by using Chamberlain's Stomach and Liver Tablets. They regulate the bowels too. Price, 25 cents. Sold by The Matthew's Drug Co.

In the waters of Somerset county, Maryland, about 2000 boats and 6000 persons were employed in crabbing this summer. Barrels of hard crabs, boxes of soft crabs and cans of cooked crabs have been shipped by carloads every day during the season, and yet the supply was not exhausted. Some of the best crabs made at the height of the season from $20 to $25 a week. Crisfield, the center of the packing industry in Somerset county, is a busy place both winter and summer. In winter oysters occupy the attention of its population, and even then many hard crabs are caught. These are cooked and the meat is picked out by women and children to be caned and sold profitably.

Earnestness of purpose, honesty in dealing, uprightness in principle, with a willingness to work, and talents propelled by energy and no young man today need have any fear of final success. He may not come at once. He may not find the right place the first time. But the country is large, and opportunities exist on every hand for the right sort of a young man. He need have no fear of finding inadequate recognition at the hands of others. Let him demonstrate that he deserves recognition and he will find that not only all things, but the very best of things, 'come to him who waits,' and he had better add to that proverb, 'and works.'

A bond issue of $800,000 was voted by the people in November last for paved roads in Harris county, in which Houston, Tex. is situated. This was qualified by a special act of the last legislature, and the attorney-general has notified the commissioners' court he is issued to approve the bonds when ready. Harris county has now forty five miles of paved roads and thirteen miles under contract. These added to the amount the $800,000 will give, will place the county in the lead and give Houston a local advantage over many other cities.

Attention, Young Men!

The state, recognizing the necessity of your obtaining an education, has established at Dahlonga, a college where you can have the advantage of a $40,000.00 equipment and a faculty, each man a specialist in his department. Tuition is free and board only $8.00 a month in Dormitory. It is your college, built for you, supported by you, and stands ready to help you. It is not a town school but a real college, being one of the five male colleges of the state. It costs no more to go to a real college than to one only in name. Don't cheat yourself by going to a school without library or scientific laboratories, Lumpkin county boys and girls should attend by the score. The county needs educated men and women. Invest your money in brains. Don't delay longer.

Morgan Burgess, a young business man of Green Ridge, Conn., has returned to his parents, with his blessing and a check for $1,000 his bride of three weeks; he says she is a hoo-doo. She was a girl from Vermont, and when he brought her home his mother fell dead at the introduction. Two nights later the house was entered by burglars and several hundred dollars were stolen; then a valuable horse and two cows were stricken with an unknown disease and died. Burgess himself was thrown from a buggy and sustained a compound fracture of his left arm, and to crown the whole performance, his store was struck by lightning and burned to the ground. This was enough. Burgess says his wife is a hoo-doo, if there ever was one, and that he hasn't the nerve to live in the same house with her. He loves her all right, but has given her a ticket home and a check and bidden her goodbye forever. The courtship was conducted by correspondence and Burgess had never seen his bride before he went on to Vermont to marry her. He thinks the misfortunes that have followed him serve him right, for having linked his life with that of a girl he had never seen.

THE CROWN MOUNTAIN GOLD
 Mining & Milling Co.

The Crown Mountain properties are situated in the very heart of the Georgia gold belt and is in the radiating center of all the leading gold veins of the Dahlonga district. They embrace what is believed to be the mother lode of the Appalachian Range.

The extensive and rich ore bodies in sight upon these properties assure long continues mining operations and the indisputable guarantee of the permanent and increasing value of the stock of 'The Crown Mountain Co.'

The projectors of this company were the first to revive the mining interest in this district in 1896. After three years of careful and exhaustive examination of all the mines of the district of reputation as gold producers, and they had the choice of all, they selected the Crown Mountain combination as the ideal gold mine of the district which would yield or produce the most gold with the least expense. This opinion is shown by all the mining engineers, mining experts, miners and owners of any standing in the district who are familiar with the properties. As an evidence of this we here state that more of the citizens of the town of Dahlonga and vicinity have taken stock in this company than have in all the other companies combined that have organized in this district.

The company is to be managed by practical business men—who have given much of their time to mining and mining operations, and always with unvarying success. The present directory is for the most part composed of men who have had much experience in the mining enterprises, and under its efficient and economical management, and by reason of a visible gold supply that is practically inexhaustible, an investment in the stock of this company is undoubtedly safe. The capitalization of the company is not commensurate with the visible productiveness of the properties and is meagre compared with the capitalization of other highly celebrated mines in the district, but the management believe it will be able to make the stock worth above par. We invite all prospective investors to make a personal inspection of the mines. We also invite them to examine all the other mines in the district—compare the quality and quantity of the ore and the facilities for economically treating the same. We have no fears of where the choice will fall.

WHERE OUR JUDGE LIVES.

RESIDENCE OF JUDGE J. B. ESTES—GAINESVILLE, GA.

Prof. A. W. Cain Writes
About Texas.

FLORESVILLE, TEX.,
Sept. 5, 1901.

Ed. Nugget:—
Many of my friends in Georgia have asked me to write them about Texas, and personal correspondence with so many would be rather burdensome. So I take this method of telling them something about this section of the Lone Star State.

The depots are filled with bales of new cotton, fodder has been pulled and forgotten and most all the corn is gathered. Now corn has been on the market for a long time. In crossing the state I saw some very fine prairie lands but this section is not prairie. It is covered with mesquite which is a bush very much like the wild willow with the leaves of the locust. This bush with a few dwarf post oaks and countless millions of prickly pears as large as a table plate is about the only wild vegetable growth in this section except grass.

The climate is exceedingly dry. I have seen many places where the grass had caught on fire and burned just as you would burn a straw field at Christmas. Those who are inclined to be a little skeptical about Sampson's fables burning the wheat fields and vineyards should come west and see, at least, that grass will burn in the summer time. The weather is very hot. Temperature ranges from 100 to 105. But you ask how is the water. Well, just suppose you should catch rain water in a barrel and keep it a week or perhaps a month. That is exactly what we drink for water. To say the best of it, I call it wretched stuff for one who has been accustomed to slake his thirst with the crystal liquid that bubbles from the hillsides of North Georgia. At the end of the second day I spent in Texas I thought of Dives as he called for Lazarus "to bring one drop of water and cool his parched tongue." But you ask about the health. I am told that people never die here. They say that one will finally dry up and blow away. A preacher gave it as his opinion that this is the exact spot where Methuselah and those other fellows did such long living. I will not vouch for the truth of these statements but have every reason to believe this place is as healthy as any spot in Georgia.

Floresville is a progressive town. It has several trains each day, many large business houses, two banks, six splendid churches and a large school. The authorities are making arrangements to sprinkle the streets with Bonmont oil. Then they will never get wet or dusty. Just think of walking the oily streets of Floresville! It will be the next thing to walking the golden streets of the New Jerusalem.

The customs of the people are very different from those in Georgia but they are fully as social and hospitable as the Georgians. There are many Mexicans in this city.

I am delighted with our school. We have a large and commodious school building. We have six teachers who represent five different states. Three of our teachers are graduates from leading colleges. The other three have special training in the graded work. In addition to my regular work in the grades I have the chair of history in the high school, a position I have long desired.

But the boys want to know if this is a good place to make money. Yes, it is better than Georgia. The common laborer on the farms receives about $16 per month and board. Everybody else gets more. But you might not secure work readily at this season. If you are a teacher, a good teacher, this is the place for you. But you must know something. I know know scores of teachers who couldn't get license here at all. The fact that I have several first grade licenses and two diplomas signed by the chancellor of the University of Georgia does not excuse me from an examination here. Inexperienced girls receive $25 in the country schools. This is the smallest amount paid any teacher. Experienced teachers receive from $25 to $45 per month in the rural schools. Of course there are fine positions in the city schools that pay much more. And living expenses here are no more than in Georgia. I saw a beautiful suit of clothes bought for $10. I got the best of board at the City Hotel for $12.50 per month. But, mind you, the luxuries cost. The people have money and don't mind to spend it. Peaches and plums cost 20 cents per dozen, apples 15 cents, grapes 10 cents per pound, and you can't get any melons at all.

Begging your pardon for indulging in so many frivolous things I am,

Very respectfully,
A. W. CAIN.

Some of the people and even preachers, are falling out with Bro. Bill Evans who preaches in the eastern part of this county. Several refuse to go in the church where he is at. What do they expect to do when they meet in heaven, or do they think they will get there?

There is a God.

I sat in one of the great halls at the national capital. It was thronged with youth and beauty, old age and wisdom. I saw a man the image of God, stand upon the stage, and I heard him speak. His gestures were the perfection of grace, his voice was music, and his language was more beautiful than any I had ever heard from mortal lips. He painted pictures after pictures and joys and sympathies of home. He enthroned love and preached the gospel of humanity like an angel. Then I saw him dip his brush in the ink of mortal blackness and blot out the beautiful picture he had painted. I saw him stab love dead at his feet. I saw him blot out the stars and the sun and leave humanity and the earth in eternal death. I saw him like the serpent of old, worm himself into the paradise of human hearts, and by his seductive eloquence and subtle device of sophistry inject his fatal venom, under whose bright its flowers faded, its music hushed, its sunshine was darkened, and its soul was left a desert waste with the new-made graves of faith and hope. I saw him like a lawless and erratic meteor without orbit sweep across the intellectual sky, brilliant only in its self-consuming fire, generated by friction with the truths of God. That man was the archangel of modern infidelity, and I said: "How true is Holy Writ, which declares that the fool has said in his heart, 'There is no God?'" Tell me not, O infidel, there is no risen Christ! What intelligence less than God's could fashion the human body? What motive power is it, if not God, that drives those throbbing engines of the human heart, sending the crimson stream of life bounding through every vein and artery? Whence and what, if not God, is the mystery we call "mind"? What is it that thinks, and feels and pains, and acts? Oh, who can deny the divinity that stirs within us! God is everywhere and in everything. His mystery is in every bud and blossom, and leaf, and tree; in every rock, and hill and mountain; in every spring and rivulet, and river. The rustle of his wing is in every zephyr; his smile is in every tempest. He dwells in the dark pavilion of every storm-cloud. The lightning is the messenger, and the thunder is his voice. His awful tread is in every earthquake and an every angry sea. The heavens above us teem with his myriads of shining witnesses—the universe of the solar system whose wheeling orbs course the crystal dread hall of eternity, the glory and power and dominion of the all-wise, omnipotent and eternal God.—Bob Taylor.

The scarlet fever is spreading all over Georgia, it looks like.

Eight prisoners were sent off last week to the chain gang from Hall county.

Both small pox and white caps are troubling the darkies of Pickens county.

The gubernatorial candidacy is still on a boom. If it continues nearly every paper in Georgia will have a candidate of its own.

No county taxes will have to be levied in Terrell this year, on account of having sufficient money to pay expenses for another year.

Cleveland Progress: The projected and camp meetings have run all the "devils" out of the country, hence we are a little later than usual this week.

A. R. Wilson, a Hall county farmer, carried fourteen water melons to Gainesville last week which weighed 1,000 pounds. The largest weighing 110 pounds.

Lewis Carroll, the negro who killed his father and a woman, was hanged at Macon last week. He said that he was going to heaven. Who will be the next to go this way?

Many Georgians have lost heavily by the collapse of the Scottish Security Co., of Louisville. Among the sufferers was Mrs. ex-Gov. W. J. Atkinson of Newnan, Ga., who lost $2,000.

Locating the fellows who furnished the free whiskey to the members of the legislature on that trip to Brunswick seems to be difficult as locating the average Georgia blind tiger.—Ex.

Carrie Nation is going to spend one day in Atlanta during the Interstate Fair. The old lady will have to behave herself in that city else she will be led to the calaboose, and it will cost her something.

Near 200 soldiers were poisoned at McPherson last week caused by ptomaine poisoning in the food, some of which had been left over. For awhile it was believed that several would die, but all have recovered.

Banker Carter, of Blue Ridge and Dahlonega has recently bought Cashier Kanyor's interest in the Murphy bank, and now Murphy is claiming Banker Carter as a resident of that town.—Cherokee Advance.

At Marietta, Ga., last Sunday Ben Copeland, a former employee of the chair factory, shot H. H. Kolkheart, the superintendent who had discharged him, killing him almost instantly, and then killed himself.

We are indebted to the Manager of the Blue Ridge and Tallulah Falls Exposition for a free railroad pass and a ticket into the exposition. We hope and believe it will be a success and wish it was so we could be on hand and meet many of our old friends in and around Tallulah Falls once more.

The state pension commissioner will not pass upon any more pensions after the 14th of September, (next Saturday) says the Atlanta Journal. Many have been sent back for correction and if they are not returned by that time, will receive no attention. So it is useless to trouble the ordinaries any more this year after that date.

Judge W. T. Newman of the United States court last Friday signed an order releasing Calvin Powers, a moonshiner from jail, so that he could return to his home in the mountains of North Georgia, and be with his wife during her last moments on earth, as the Judge has been notified that the man's wife was on her death bed, and could live not longer than a day or two. Calvin Powers is fifty-two years of age and was serving a sentence of one year for illicit distilling.

Mining Notes

We are informed that preparations are being made to start up the Stewart mine again near Auraria, its owners being residents of Atlanta.

Gold mining in Lumpkin county is getting on a firm footing. Nothing is being done for a show now, like the girls who wear fine diamond colored stockings. It is being conducted on business like principles in nearly every instant and is sure to result in something beneficial to the interested parties.

The rich Lawrence vein at Turkey Hill mine is still being followed and holds out good. Mr. Packard has five hands at work on it and is making money. But few mines fail to pay in this section when worked in an economical manner like this, even where there is of lower grade than at this mine.

Mr. Ashley, who has been successfully dredge mining in the Chestate river for some time, commenced the construction of another new boat last week 20 by 40, which will be used in topping off and keeping the sand out of the way of the shovel or dredge boat. When this is completed two more dredge boats will be built by Mr. Ashley.

Some five stamps of the Consolidated Co's mill ran for some days furnishing ore to supply Mr. Breyman's gold saving process. A clean up was made from this machine and some gold found but we don't know whether it was sufficient to overrun the expenses or not. It is Mr. Breyman's individual machine and costs the company nothing for the experiment.

Poston is still mining alone on the Calloun with good results, taking out ore that is worth from fifteen to twenty dollars to the pan. On the same property Loggins and Beck are at work on a big rich vein, taking out a run for the mill. About a bushel of the best ore placed to itself has small rock in it containing pieces of gold weighing from two to three pennyweights. An old miner who had seen it and not interested in any way, told us the other day that this bushel of ore looked like it would turn out near three hundred pennyweights, and pronounced the other as being very good.

Work is still going on at the Talloneka mine owned by the Standard Co., Mr. Breyman possessing likely the controlling interest, who is preparing to work it with Georgia miners under the old Georgia system, which is to mine for profit. Pipe lines are being relayed for hydraulic purposes and in a short while the old Singleton mill will be set to moving with its twenty stamps under the supervision of Thomas Ray, a native miner who knows the property, thus enabling him to get paying ore without any thousand dollar searches. And last but not least, understands treating the plates of the mill so as to be able to save most of the gold without any extra expense for new so-called gold saving machines, and will make money.

The constant sound of both the fifty stamp and two Huntington mills over at the Crown Mountain gold mine can be heard by the citizens of Dahlonega both day and night, and the roaring of three or four giants washing down the mountain of gold, giving a large number of honest, hard working toilers employment, denotes prosperity in the land. And the yellow metal which can be seen in the sluice boxes and on the plates, by the naked eyes, convinces all those interested, even with only a few days run, that they have made no mistake in their investment. Everything at and about the mine is working like a charm. The giants are making their way towards the main backbone of the belt striking unexpected veins on the way, while work will commence week on the Wallace vein (not lost) and another so as to enable ore to be taken out at a much lower depth by the sinking of shafts.

President McKinley Shot.

On Friday last at about 5 o'clock p. m., news was received by wire in Dahlonega that a cowardly assassin had made an effort an hour previous to take the life of President McKinley, which shocked the whole community.

It occurred at Buffalo, N. Y., at a reception in the Temple of Music by an anarchist who calls himself Czolgosz, shooting Mr. McKinley twice. The assassin carried the revolver in one hand covered with a handkerchief and as he extended the other hand to shake hands with the president he fired two shots. One ball entering the victim's left breast and the other the abdomen. The coward instead of being killed on the spot

Oil for the Children.

Give them oil—cod-liver oil. It's curious to see the result.

Give it to the peevish, fretful child, and he laughs. Give it to the pale, anemic child, and his face becomes rosy and full of health. Take a flat-chested child, or a child that has stopped growing, give him the oil, and he will grow big and strong like the rest.

This is not a new scheme. It has been done for years. Of course you must use the right oil. Scott's Emulsion is the one.

Scott's Emulsion neither looks nor tastes like oil because we are so careful in making it pleasant to take.

was arrested and hastened off to prison. While surgeons at once extracted the balls and at this time the president is resting very well.

Mr. McKinley has made the most conservative president the United States has ever had, and should he pass away it would be a great loss to the nation. Latest:—President is recovering. Lieutenant Fred Price, of Dahlonega, is now in charge of a squad of soldiers guarding the president.

Asthma Cure Free!

Asthmalene Brings Instant Relief and Permanent Cure in All Cases.

SENT ABSOLUTELY FREE ON RECEIPT OF POSTAL. WRITE YOUR NAME AND ADDRESS PLAINLY.

There is nothing like Asthmalene. It brings instant relief, even in the worst cases. It cures when all else fails. The Rev. C. F. WELLS, of Villa Ridge, Ill., says: "My trial bottle of Asthmalene received in good condition. I cannot tell you how thankful I feel for the good derived from it. I was always a slave, chained with painful sore throat and asthma for ten years. I despaired of ever being cured. I saw your advertisement for the cure of this dreadful and tormenting disease, Asthma, and thought you had overspoken yourselves, but resolved to give it a trial. To my astonishment the trial acted like a charm. Send me a full size bottle."

Rev. Dr. Morris Wechsler, Rabbi of the Cong. Bnai Israel, New York, Jan. 4, 1901. DR. TAFT BROS' MEDICINE CO., Gentlemen: Your Asthmalene is an excellent remedy for Asthma and Hay Fever, and its composition alleviates

all troubles which combine with Asthma. Its success is astonishing and wonderful. After having it carefully analyzed, we can state that Asthmalene contains no opium, morphine, chlorform or ether. Very truly yours, REV. DR. MORRIS WECHSLER, AVON SPRINGS, N. Y., Feb. 1, 1901. DR. TAFT BROS. MEDICINE CO. Gentlemen: I write this testimony from a sense of duty, having tested the wonderful effect of your Asthmalene for the cure of Asthma. My wife has been afflicted with spasmodic asthma for the past 12 years. Having exhausted my own skill as well as many others, I chanced to see your sign upon your windows on 120th Street, New York, and at once obtained a trial bottle of Asthmalene. My wife commenced taking it about the first of November. I very soon noticed a radical improvement. After using one bottle her asthma has disappeared and she is entirely free from all symptoms. I feel that I can consistently recommend the medicine to all who are afflicted with this distressing disease. Yours respectfully, O. L. PHELPS, M. D.

Dr. Taft Bros. Medicine Co., Gentlemen: I was troubled with Asthma for 22 years. I have tried numerous remedies, but they have all failed. I ran across your advertisement and started with a trial bottle. I found relief at once. I have since purchased your full size bottle, and I am very grateful. I have family of four children and for six years was unable to work. This testimony you can make such use of as you see fit. Home address, 235 Livingston St., 8 RAPHAEL, Rt 12 East 12th St., City.

TRIAL BOTTLE ABSOLUTELY SENT FREE ON RECEIPT OF POSTAL.

Do not delay. Write at once, addressing DR. TAFT BROS' MEDICINE CO., 79 East 120th Street, N. Y. City.

THE NUGGET.

DAHLONEGA, SEPTEMBER 13 1901

Mrs. Lina Boyd is up on a visit from Atlanta.

Mrs. Anna Smith leaves this week for Covington, Ga.

Bill Crain has been released from jail on bond this week.

J. F. Moore is anticipating putting him up a brick business house.

The big belt at the Hand mill breaking last Wednesday causing a delay of all work for an indefinite period.

Paul Casteberry has gone to Alabama to fill a position until his brothers health improves so he can resume work again.

There are about 150 students already arrived, all clever, good looking fellows, causing the girls to smile and look pleasant.

The college dormitory for females is about framed and the work is being pushed as rapidly as possible with a good force of mechanics.

Sheriff Davis seems to be sore yet from the effects of his race after Berry Crane the other morning. We recently stated that it was Marr, but he gave the officer no trouble.

The Witt-Adams gold matter is yet unsettled. A letter to Mr. McAfee, one of the arbitrators, states that Mr. Adams says that it is a terrible big job for him to get up the testimony required by the arbitrators.

Dr. A. J. Cavender, of Hall county, who attended college here near 20 years ago, was in the city shaking hands with his many friends last Saturday. The Doctor is a constant reader of the Nugget and likes to hear from the place of his school boy days every week.

Last Wednesday while L. G. Stowers, of Dawson county, was up renewing his subscription to the Nugget he showed us a beautiful piece of gold found on his farm half an inch long weighing fifteen grains. This shows that our sister county contains yellow metal too.

J. W. Birch was in Dahlonega last Wednesday visiting up his business so as to leave for the north on Saturday, who we trust will reach his destination safely. The dredge boat he had just sold to Messrs. Berman and Bloomer is moving right a head, managed by the old crew.

Some people grumble at merchants selling "too high." No wonder. They are put to more unnecessary trouble than any other set of men on the globe. Often they have to fill their counters with different kinds of goods to show to women who sometimes don't even have a nickel in their pockets. One woman visited several stores in this manner last Saturday, not even buying a box of matches.

For some days last week it was reported that the family of John Austin, col., residing in the suburbs of Dahlonega had the scarlet fever, attending physician being Dr. Head, who at first was fearful that it might be. But last Saturday he informed us that it was not and no fears need be entertained whatever, being only the sore throat caused from too much exposure in the night air, lasting only a few days.

One of the largest rattles we have heard of in this country was killed up at Dillard Grizzles a few miles from Dahlonega last Friday. It was four inches in diameter and three feet and three inches long, having only eight rattles. It has been known to be in Mr. Grizzles house for the four past summers. The dwelling is made of logs, celled on the interior and weather-boarded on the outside causing it to have a snug place to den. Every time during the summer when the wall of the house was hit or felled they could hear it sing, but were unable to ever see it until last Friday when it came crawling out into the yard.

Is your house insured? If not, why not?

Nice round cornered visiting cards for sale at this office.

Can you afford to take all the risk of loss by fire or lightning?

G. H. McGuire and J. H. Jenkins are manufacturing brick in a hurry now.

When you see any thing in this paper that displeases you don't get mad enough to fight the editor until his corn got well so he can run.

The baby editor of the Signal got on another "tare" last Saturday, caused by sitting down on a rotten apple. In this condition he appeared in town soliciting the names of parties to give him a dollar and a quarter for one of his "write ups" and their picture in his "clean, democratic sheet," as he calls it, but we didn't hear of any one that wanted it except a little seven-year old negro boy, and his parents whipped him for being so foolish.

Mr. Bloomer, of Toledo, Ohio, was expecting to remain in Dahlonega for some time, but we received a message from him after leaving the city that he was called away on business and for us to forward his Nugget to Toledo, thus indicating that he didn't know exactly what time he would be able to return. Mr. Bloomer has a right good sum of money invested here, having an interest in the former Birch Bros. dredge boat and the Consolidated Co's mines, besides being one of the official members of this company, which keeps him moving. Notwithstanding his locks are growing white from old age he is a great hustler when it comes to business and we are always glad to have him in our community.

For some time two young men on the Chattahoochee river have been paying their respects to the same young lady, each one feeling assured that he was her favorite, feeling so confident of the fact that they made a bet last Saturday afternoon in the presence of half a dozen witnesses—one putting up a fiddle and the other a banjo as to their popularity. The agreement being that they were both to go together early that night and make a test case, which resulted in the fiddler coming out winner. How sad it is for the other to think that he is with out a lover and banjo both, having no one to talk to nor nothing to play on in these, his saddest moments.

Hon. G. D. Bruce returned from the new country in the west which was opened up on the 6th of August last Friday afternoon. He intended remaining until the first of October but the sanitary condition was so bad that many were taking typhoid fever in Lawton, where he was at, which got him to believing that he too might be directed to a stranger country still, and feeling satisfied without any more chances, decided that it was safer to return to the red hills of Lumpkin county. Mr. Bruce did not succeed in getting any land in the draw but was doing well in the real estate business until they struck oil near by, causing every one to decline making any more land deals until it was seen whether or they struck a gusher or not. The town lots where Lawton is located, consisting of 300 acres, brought five hundred thousand dollars. The place is building up rapidly. The price of lumber opened up at forty dollars per thousand. There are 85 barrooms, five newspapers, many banks, hundreds of tongs and but few places of worship. Most of the banks are yet kept in tents, all doing a thriving business, for a man supposed to have money knows better than to venture out much for fear of being knocked down and his pockets searched. The only persons that can travel through that country without any fears whatever is editors. It being known every where that but few of them have any money. There are a good many Indians there, Mr. Bruce says, but they "shiny" on their own side," several of them having been killed recently by the whites just for amusement.

Mr. Breyman returned to his home in Toledo, O., this week to be absent for a few days.

Hon. G. D. Bruce has a curiosity in the shape of a Philippine hat which he brought back with him from the west.

New fodder just opened up in Dahlonega at $1.75 per hundred but will not bring more than $1.50 now, if that much.

We were presented with some nice delicious pears this week by Dr. Howard, which he calls the Dahlonega Seedling. The tree is about twenty years old and full of fruit.

The fall session of the N. G. A. College commenced last Wednesday with a good attendance of students from all over Georgia and some who live out of the state—a large number of them new ones, and others coming in.

Mrs. W. W. Murray, of Tennessee, came in last week and joined her husband who has been here for some time accompanied by their son Mr. Charles Murray, who is also well known and liked by the people of this community.

John H. Moore was fined one and cost last Tuesday by Mayor Price for keeping four hogs in a lot in rear of the old Hall stable. The lot is the legal size and no more hogs kept in it than the law allows but Mr. Prater, living close by, reported it as a nuisance. Mr. Moore has appealed his case to the council.

During the storm Tuesday lightning struck the residence recently occupied by Capt. Hall near this office. It tore off a few shingles and ran down by the stove flue in the family room. What damage it did on the inside cannot be told as Capt. Hall carried the keys of the house away. This property is bargained to the Consolidated Co.

A big line of nice embroidery just in, prices low down. A new lot of fine and cheap watches, gents and ladies. A nice line of ribbon. Glass lamps with and without shades, 25c to 94. A good Rochester lamp $1.88. Eight day clocks with alarms $2.20. Everything at the cheapest possible price for honest values, at B. R. MEADERS & SONS.

G. D. Bruce, the photographer, has returned from the west and is now better prepared to do work than ever. He is preparing to enlarge his business and take pictures from the cheapest to the best. His manner of turning out work is too well known for us to take up time and space in telling you how good it is. In his absence a photographer came up from Gainesville and did some photographic work but none of it came up to Bruce's.

Two certain married men, both members of the church, are paying their respects to the same woman in Dahlonega, causing her to put on her best rigging and appear in town as often as she can find any reasonable excuse. Which of these men will win her affections we have no idea. But when one does the other will commit suicide. Then he will be placed in a casket and carried to the cemetery followed by numbers of people where he will be put away with a long ceremony. Around his grave will be planted flowers and evergreens. At his head will be placed a weeping willow, under which will more conspicuously mark his grave a large headstone bearing a square and compass, the date of his advent into the world and departure out of it. After which the printer will be called upon to publish a long obituary, telling how loving he was to his family, and what a strict member of the church and christian man he was. When the woman's days are ended what will be the result? She will be placed in a cheap coffin with scarcely enough friends to bury her. Neither one of her now special friends will be on hand. No head or foot stone will mark her last resting place and in a few years her grave will again be level with the earth for want of attention.

Mr. Hubbard, the Consolidated Co's electrician, after a few weeks sickness, is able to be out.

A little three-year-old girl of Coley Collins, in the western part of the county, died one day last week after being sick a few hours. Cause unknown.

Young West Lingerfelt of this county, was bound over to the Superior Court the other day for breaking open the door and entering the house of Geo. Magness.

Last Sunday Mr. J. B. Stargel, of this county, was wedded to Miss Nannie Smith, daughter of Mr. Wm. Smith of Hall. Both have our best wishes for a long and prosperous life.

We are now receiving our line of fall and winter dry goods and notions, bought them early that we might get the best selections. Come early and we will take pleasure in showing you what we have. FRANK I. REESE.

Rev. Dewees, of Gordon, Ga., arrived in our city last Saturday and preached at the Baptist church both Sunday and Sunday night and again a time or two since. He has formed the acquaintance of a number of our citizens, liked by all and may be chosen to preach here by the Baptists.

It is believed that the Consolidated Co's big vacant hotel is haunted. At several different times at night the electric lights in one of the rooms would flash up for several seconds. We happened to be close enough the other night to get a glimpse of the supposed haunt, which to us resembled a man with a great big jug in one hand.

Gov. Thomas created a good deal of attention last Saturday by taking a hack ride with his head covered by a lady's hat. At the first appearance we thought that it was Mrs. Nation coming but as he drew nearer he looked better and we knew that it wasn't the old lady. Governor, in a hurry to take a ride grabbed up the most convenient hat and lit out. Since that time, except Sunday, he has been in the fodder field and we haven't seen him since.

On last Tuesday Clyde Meaders was arrested by sheriff Davis and required to give a $300 bond by Squire Allen for his appearance at the October term of Lumpkin Superior Court, charged with assaulting merchant J. M. Ricketts with intent to murder him on Thursday afternoon of last week by hitting him on the side of the head with a brickbat, supposed to have fractured the skull. The particulars as we glean them are as follows which were told us by some of the eye witnesses: Mr. Ricketts had dunned a Mr. Love, who he claimed was owing him, as he passed the store. The account not being paid made Ricketts mad, causing him to curse above his usual voice, supposed to be under the influence of liquor, for it is a rare thing to hear him swear. It being near B. R. Meaders' residence Frank Meaders requested him to hush cursing as he was in hearing of some ladies. He replied that he would curse where he pleased, and while they were exchanging some words Clyde Meaders stepped up and asked Frank, "why don't you make him hush?" This of course made Ricketts more angry, who said, "Frank, I have nothing against you, but Clyde is a d—n son of a — and I have got no use for him." They kicked and Frank Meaders and John Ricketts, a brother of Joe, ran in between them. John showing Clyde grabbed up a rock, first striking John Ricketts with it in his hand and then threw the brick at Joe Ricketts, knocking him down where he lay as if dead for some time, and the fuss ended. The injured man kept up for a day or two but finally had to go to bed, being in such a fix that he can't lie down, causing the warrant to be sworn out for the defendant on Monday night.

You will find G. H. McGuire, the well known jeweler, at his new stand next to Judge Brittain's old residence.

After Mrs. R. H. Baker had retired Wednesday night a heavy picture frame fell on her head causing an ugly gash.

"Buck" Evans is now wearing a double smile on account of twin boys making their appearance at his house last week.

R. C. Meaders spent several days down in Hall county last week putting up lightning arresters as requested by the commissioners of that county.

Parties in writing letters intended for publication in this paper must sign their names to them. Not for publication or to be given away but for our own protection. Some new improvements are being made on the Dahlonega Hotel building. The office is now in front and the store extended back into the old office, causing the store room to be much lighter.

Notwithstanding there was church here a negro woman went clear down to Pigeon Roost last Sunday, three miles, to serve the Lord and her husband gave her a gentle good whipping when she returned for staying until after dark.

M. C. Martin, who has been a resident of Dahlonega for near two years and doing business for J. H. Moore, leaves with his family for Mississippi on the 20th. Mr. Martin is a clever man, a good citizen and we all dislike to give him and his family up.

Last week as soon as Arnold was brought in and lodged in jail charged with illicit distilling, Marshal Grizzle went back into the woods near where he caught him and found his still and a keg of liquor. This was over in Shoal Creek district, and will cause things to be dryer over there for a while.

We had a very pleasant call last week from Mrs. M. G. Head, of Dahlonega, in company with her relative Miss Dora Anderson, of Jackson county, and Mr. H. F. Daniel, who is in the Messenger office at Auburn, Ga. All are readers of the Nugget causing us to feel proud of a visit from so many friends and patrons.

We saw a fellow come riding into town the other day squatted down in a vehicle, both hatless and shoeless. He was carried into a hotel and a physician sent for. It is said that he was worth half a million dollars. Having invested most too much money in blockade liquor it failed to agree with him. It can't be used like soda water or beer. This, strangers not used to it, soon ascertain the fact after indulging.

Rev. Wallace Rogers, the pastor of the Methodist church here, has been offered an important branch of religious work by the Railroad Young Men's Christian Association, having received notice from the Secretary at Blue Ridge, Ga., recently, having until the first of January to decide whether he will take it or not, but Mr. Rogers informs us that he is of the opinion now that he will not. The position pays $1,000 a year and railroad expenses, being more than he receives now but he is not away from his family as much probably as he would be in the office he was to accept.

Engineer W. A. Carlisle, of the Gainesville and Dahlonega railway has rented a house and located in Gainesville.

Henry McKee, who left Dahlonega a short time ago to seek his fortune in the west, is now located in the Indian Territory.

Henry Wofford of White county, was brought in this week by U. S. Deputy Marshal Grizzle and bound over by Com. Baker for having been guilty of violating the revenue law.

The other day as two fellows were returning from the mountains with a well filled jug of liquor and their hearts full of joy, the buggy turned over breaking the vessel causing happiness to turn to sadness, both feeling like they had been to the funeral of a departed relative when they reached home.

Our spectrum was visited last Monday by W. L. Cochran, of Huntsville, Ga., L. W. Cochran, of Randa, Ga., W. P. Gillispie, of Wahoo, Ga., and M. W. Gillispie, of Jewellville, Ga., all four prosperous farmers and weekly readers of the Nugget. We are always glad to have a visit from "the farmers who feed them all."

Last Saturday as Mr. Breyman and Maxwell were driving down to the farmers dredge boat near New Bridge, the tap to one wheel of the backboard lost off causing it to drop over near Mr. Bruce when the wheel left the vehicle. Both men were thrown out and slightly bruised up. The horse ran some distance, wrecking the backboard and badly cutting the legs of the animal. This makes twice this horse has run away with in the past few weeks. If they are not careful hereafter it will yet kill some one.

A few nights ago after services at a church out in the country a heavy shower raised the creek which many of the church goers had to cross, to such an extent that the foot log was impassable. One gentleman having a wagon had as many ladies and children get into it as could be carried across safely. Among them was one young lady who had a gentleman escort. He stood on the bank until the wagon crossed and not feeling willing to part with her for the night at that time, jumped into the water and swam across, very soon being again walking by her side chatting happily together as before. This is the way to show his love, and if one can be found that will love his wife this well after they are wedded he is worth a fortune to any young lady and will do to tie to.

If no providential cause takes place the Gainesville and Dahlonega electric railroad will be built. We are not guessing at this. Our information comes from headquarters, and if we didn't believe that it would be built we would not say so. Gen. Warner, Judge Murray and twelve or fourteen other prominent persons went down to Gainesville last week to stir the citizens up on the matter and find out whether they meant to raise the $15,000 asked for or not. They assured the promoters of this important enterprise that they would do their part. Committees were appointed to solicit this subscription and quite a good sum was secured in a single day, and the work still progresses. With this assurance the road will be built. Not only this but Gainesville will be supplied with electric lights and water works, etc., by this company. The water power for this purpose having already been secured and paid for. A telegram was received here Monday saying that the bonds had been printed and forwarded by express that day. It will likely take until this afternoon (Thursday) for them to reach Dahlonega. Then it will take President Murray something like a day to sign them, after which Gen. Warner will leave for New York the following day with these bonds where he already has arranged to place them, and will be ready to begin work by the first of October.

Curious Chinese Twins.

Curious Chinese twins are now being exhibited in Europe. Like the famous Siamese twins, they are joined together at the lower part of the chest.

These twins are boys, and they were born in China a few years ago. They are of normal intelligence, and each weighs 13 kilograms. Four years ago they had smallpox, the infection passing in 24 hours from one to the other. They go to sleep about the same time, but it is possible to awaken one without the other. They can walk and run with ease, and when they lie down they quickly find a comfortable position.

Mr. Chapot-Prevost, a scientist, who has given much attention to monstrosities of this kind and who successfully performed an operation some time ago on two girls who were similarly joined, recently examined these twins and concluded that the ligament uniting them could be severed without much, if any, risk. He therefore, suggested that this be done, but those in charge of the twins said it was impossible, as it was the will of the Chinese god Khango that the boys should be born thus, and his will must be respected.

His Own Banker.

He had no faith in banks, and was dead "agin" corporations and all forms of monopolies, and so after raising his cotton and hogs for a year and getting $1200 in gold coin for them, he allowed he'd take care of his money himself, and went out after dark and buried it in the earth, like unto the man who had but one talent. No bank could bust with his money in its tills, he said, but sad to relate, when when he wanted his money to pay his taxes he just had a hole in the ground to show for his cotton and his hogs, and then it was that, like Job of old, he simply refused to be comforted and lifted up his voice and howled. Keep your money in the banks.

One riddle that defies solution is woman's love. There is no accounting for it, upon any hypothesis. There, for instance, was Owen Stickney, of Rochester, N. Y., a legless and penniless old fossil, the other day induced a young and handsome woman to elope with him. His case, however was not a marker to that of Chicago man, old, rheumatic and ugly, and not even glib of speech, who was arrested recently for marrying not less than eighteen young women, nearly every one of whom was good looking and of average intelligence. And strange to relate, each of his dupes believed in him and loved him, even after his exposure. —Marietta Journal.

Cuts and Bruises Quickly Healed. Chamberlain's Pain Balm applied to a cut, bruise, burn, scald or other injury will instantly allay the pain and will heal the parts in less time than any other treatment. Unless the injury is very severe it will not leave a scar. Pain Balm also cures rheumatism, sprains, swellings and lameless. For sale by The Matthew Drug Co.

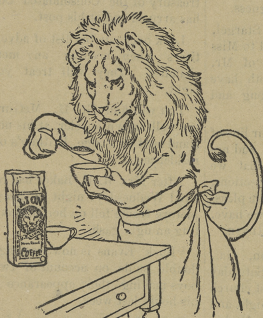

It was a striking act of heroism that led Dr. Lazear to permit himself to be bitten by a mosquito which was known to have bitten a yellow fever patient. Dr. Lazear did this to test the efficacy of the mosquito in carrying the virus from one patient to another, but the two idiots who did it in a spirit of bravado and derision are to be classed with those who jump from the Brooklyn bridge for the notoriety they may achieve. The result is nearly always the same, and the only notoriety they achieve is of the "obituary" kind. —Ex.

Uncle Hiram Duckett, though 90 years of age, was in town the other day walking around with much more case than several persons in this county 40 years younger drawing indigent pensions.

Attention, Young Men!

The state, recognizing the necessity of your obtaining an education, has established at Dahlonga, a college where you can have the advantage of a $40,000.00 equipment and a faculty, each man a specialist in his department. Tuition is free and board is only $8.00 a month in Dormitory. It is your college, built for you, supported by you, and stands ready to help you. It is not a town school but a real college, being one of the five male colleges of the state. It costs no more to go to a real college than to one only in name. Don't cheat yourself by going to a school without library or scientific laboratories. Lumpkin county boys and girls should attend by the score. The county needs educated men and women. Invest your money in brains. Don't delay longer.

Chamberlain's Cough Remedy a Great Favorite

The soothing and healing properties of this remedy, its pleasant taste and prompt and permanent cures have made it a great favorite with people everywhere. It is especially prized by mothers of small children for colds, croup and whooping cough, as it always affords quick relief, and as it contains no opium or other harmful drug, it may be given confidently to baby as to an adult. Price, 25 cents. Sample free at The Matthew's Drug Co.

General McArthur thinks it will require an army of 50,000 to keep down future uprisings in the Philippines. The cost of maintaining 50,000 troops over there is simply enormous. Expansion comes light, but the republicans say we must have it. —Marietta Journal.

When you want a pleasant physic try the new remedy, Chamberlain's Stomach and Liver Tablets. They are easy to take and pleasant in effect. Price, 25 cents. Sample free at The Matthew's Drug Co.

Henry Flagler gave his bride $4,000,000 as a wedding gift, but she sold herself dirt cheap at that. Under similar circumstances, many an American girl would not have taken Miss Keenan's place for all the gold in the world's strong boxes. —Albany Herald.

A little boy in Green Hill, Conn., wept copiously because his grandmother would not buy him a horse. When he found that tears brought no result, he changed his tactics and made a pre-emptory demand. This also being refused, he took into his own hands, ran amuck and smashed the furniture generally. He is now in a reform school, with sufficient sorrow on his mind to keep his lachrymal glands working overtime.

THE CROWN MOUNTAIN GOLD

Mining & Milling Co.

The Crown Mountain properties are situated in the very heart of the Georgia gold belt and is in the radiating center of all the leading gold veins of the Dahlonga district. They embrace what is believed to be the mother lode of the Appalachian Range.

The extensive and rich ore bodies in sight upon these properties assure long continued mining operations and the indisputable guarantee of the permanent and increasing value of the stock of "The Crown Mountain Gold."

The projectors of this company were the first to revive the mining interest in this district in 1890. After three years of careful and exhaustive examination of all the mines of the district of reputation as gold producers, and they had the choice of all, they selected the Crown Mountain combination as the ideal gold mine of the district which would yield or produce the most gold with the least expense. This opinion is shown by all the mining engineers, mining experts, miners and citizens of any standing in the district who are familiar with the properties. As an evidence of this we here state that more of the citizens of the town of Dahlonga and vicinity have taken stock in this company than have in all the other companies combined that have organized in this district.

The company is to be managed by practical business men—who have given much of their time to mining and mining operations, and always with unvarying success.

The present directory is for the most part composed of men who have had much experience in the mining enterprises, and under its efficient and economical management, and by reason of a visible gold supply that is practically inexhaustible, an investment in the stock of this company is undoubtedly safe. The capitalization of the company is not commensurate with the visible productiveness of the properties and is meagre compared with the capitalization of other justly celebrated mines in the district, but the management believe it will be able to make the stock worth above par.

We invite all prospective investors to make a personal inspection of the mines. We also invite them to examine all the other mines in the district—compare the quality and quantity of the ore and the facilities for economically treating the same. We have no fears of where the choice will fall.

Duty of Parents.

Do fathers and mothers realize in how many ways they can help or hinder teachers? The mother, encumbered with many cares, fills the dinner bucket, hunts up the hats and bonnets and places them on top of black, brown or golden curls, ties the bonnet strings under the dimpled chins, and with a sigh of relief turns again to the housework.

What a great relief it is to know the busy, restless, mischievous little ones are off her hands for another day, and she may work undisturbed by childish hurts and quarrels.

Now when the mother's work and troubles with the children ends for the day, that of the teacher's begins. Think for a moment of a teacher surrounded by thirty or forty of these restless busy-bodies, good and bad all in the same little room and decide whether you are willing to help or hinder that teacher.

For the sake of your own children and your community, if not for the sake of the toiling teacher, be a help by giving a little encouragement and training at home.

School is not simply a place to send children to keep them out of your way, but the place where the state seeks to have them trained for future usefulness. And you must not think the teacher can do this without your help. If you tear down while he tries to build up the structure will be completed. It is in your power to so aid him that your child may receive the greatest benefits, and if you fail to do this there will be charged up to your great loss in the account of your child's life. God will hold you accountable for it.

You should never allow your child to be absent from school a single day unless it is absolutely unavoidable. But oh, how often they are allowed to remain out of school as a matter of their own choice.

And again I have heard people say: "I had to work for my daddy" and I have to work 'till, and my 'youngins' 'aint no 'better'n' I am." My brother, do you plow with an old single footed wooden plow stock because your "daddy" did? Do you go to mill on a sled because your great grand father did? Do you wish to deprive your child of a blessing because you were deprived of it and because you neglected your opportunities? Of course you do not, for that would be the very essence of satanic selfishness. Your children were not given you for slaves, and God will hold you accountable for the way you bring them up. He desires that they should live in the fullest enjoyment of life, and to do this they must be educated. Then they will be a help to the country and the people around them instead of a drag and a nuisance to society, and the jails and courts would not be so well patronized, and there would not be so many unhappy and disgraceful marriages.

So, for the sake of your child's future, not only here but hereafter, and for the sake of society and civilization, send it to school. But for Heaven's sake do not allow him to come without books, and reach the school house any where from 9 to 12 o'clock and then you will not have so much to criticize the teacher about.

Now about criticizing the teacher. We admit that they have faults but perhaps you have some too. So when you hear some little report, which often has no real foundation do not be so thoughtless and cruel as to say hard things about him and weaken your child's faith in him. What would you think of a coward who would sneak up and stab a man in the back without giving him a chance to defend himself? Charity and even common courtesy forbids that you should discuss, before any body much less your children, what you suppose to be the faults of the teacher, from what you have heard.

If you will approach a teacher in the proper spirit about matters, real or imaginary, which do not please you you may be sure you will be received in a friendly spirit and thanked by him if you show him where he has made a mistake, and he will be only too glad to correct it if possible.

And much of the imaginary faults of him hinges in your mind because you never visit the school to see how he is getting along. Your presence at the school would be a great encouragement both to him and the children. I have actually failed a time or two to get even the trustees out to see about important business. Such carelessness is an inexcusable shame.

The other day we had a picnic over on the river with a few of our neighboring schools and rendered a short program, and on Monday morning when we told the children they had been complimented for their good display we were much delighted to see how it pleased them, and they have been doing so much better work ever since. Let children know you are interested in them and pleased with their work and they will do better. So visit the school.

You would attempt to rob your neighbor, perhaps, of his property and yet some of you are robbing your children of that which God and the state desires they should have and that which civilization and society demands. It will enable them to live for which you are responsible to the greatest success and enjoyment.

The teacher is assigned on the road of life about six years from the starting point trying faithfully to direct the children in their search for truth, and every parent should be his assistant. But if they stand on the other side and point in the opposite direction which way are the children most likely to go?

Now there are few people who think it just a mere accommodation to the teacher for them to send their children to school. Such little narrow-minded people as that really need a guardian and if they would only turn their children over to the school for a few years they would be for more capable of taking care of the parents than the parents are of them. God is not pleased with such selfishness because it belongs to Satan.

My dear friend, send your child to school for its own good regardless of what it may be to some one else.

V. R. HICKS.

Women's love of dress, it is said, gives employment to fully 1,400,000 persons in France. In Paris alone there are 75,000 persons employed in the dressmaking establishment of the city. Add the individuals who design and make the materials used by the dress makers, and you will have the aggregate of employes named. Americans are the most profitable customers of the Parisian dress-makers, not that they get anything better than can be had in the United States, but that Paris appears to set the fashions. The exercise of a little common sense upon the part of Americans would serve to keep the dressmaking money at home.

Dahlonega's Bashful Young Men.

There are two or three bashful young men in Dahlonega now preparing to select a partner for life. We sympathize with them for we used to be bashful and are yet to some extent, but we trust that neither of these will get in the predicament the young man did out west who called to see a girl. A storm came up, the girl's father asked him to remain over night. He was a very bashful young man and next morning when he was invited to a seat at the table reluctantly accepted. He was very nervous and agitated. He sat opposite the mirror and discovered that he had forgotten to comb his hair. Then he dropped his fork on the floor and as he stooped to pick it up he upset his coffee. Matters went from bad to worse until finally the young man quit eating and put his hands under the table. The loss end of the table cloth was lying in his lap and when he touched it he turned pale. He thought it was his shirt and that in his nervous excitement while dressing he had forgotten to put the garment inside his trousers. That accounted for his smiles and his embarrassment. There was no time to lose. He hurriedly stuffed the supposed shirt inside his trousers. Two minutes later when the family arose from the table there was a crash. The dishes lay in a broken mass on the floor. The young man pulled three feet of tablecloth out of his pants and fled through the door.

Sample of the Signals Democracy.

'As the Signal is now,' endeavoring to make you believe that it is a firm democratic sheet we will give you a copy of an editorial appearing in it on January 16, 1900, in behalf of Mr. Tate, our present clever postmaster who, of course, is a republican. It is as follows: HONOR TO WHOM HONOR IS DUE.

Judge Tate, our watchful ordinary, will stand for reelection. He has been a faithful servant of the people and under many disadvantages, having never served the public before. By strict observation of the laws that govern him he has proven himself a most efficient worker to the interests of the people of the county. Under his administration our financial condition has never been better, the public buildings are much improved, and the roads have received their share of attention, in fact, some of the road work has been supervised by the Judge and many changes and improvements made, observable by the public in many places. We have some of the best iron bridges in the state, creditable to his observance of the recommendations of the different grand juries who have had a watchful eye to the good and progress of the public works of the county.

Judge Tate deserves to be endorsed by the people for his good works, and will stand for reelection in October. We give these points so that our people will have timely notice of his intentions, so the voters can give this matter due consideration.

Treasurer Brown does not sit down and depend entirely upon his office for a support but raises corn and other farm products. He tells us that he never saw fodder as big and long before. He says he took occasion to measure some blades of corn the other day. One was over five feet long and another was four inches and a half wide and four feet long.

W. P. Price, Jr., is preparing to have one of the nicest store houses when completed in town. The upper story will be cut up into offices. All to be lit up by electricity.

It is too hard for poor people to be taxed to pay pensions to persons not entitled to them, more especially when many who draw them are rich. There has to be a stopping point to these pensions and it had just as well begin at the next session of the legislature.

We have the following articles which are some times hard to find that suit you: Table linen, napkins, drapery, reps, flannellets, white flannel in cotton and wool, sheetings from three-fourths to ten-fourths pearl bleached, and any size spool cotton from eight to 100.

FRANK L. REESE.

Mrs. Daniel Haney, of this county, was bitten on the hand by a rattlesnake's pilot last Tuesday morning. She had arose to build a fire before good daylight and in reaching in the corner of the room for some kindling picked up the snake. Dr. Wheelchel was sent for and the pain was intense until the medicine he gave her took effect.

The news of a very sad death reaches us from Dawson county, being Mrs. Pinion, a daughter of Mrs. Reubin Anderson. She had come over from Pickens county on a visit and took something like the colic. Her mother gave her a dose of morphine and the lady went to sleep and never woke again. As Mrs. Anderson had been in the habit of taking morphine for years it is thought that she gave her daughter too much.

The other day Berry Underwood, col., who has been hiding out for some time, was captured in Dahlonega by Marshals Grizzle and Harbison and bound over for illicit distilling. While Mr. Grizzle was in White county summoning witnesses he was told of a lady who had lost a lot of meat and it was supposed that it was brought this way. Sheriff Davis was told of the matter who went down to Berry's house Tuesday and found the meat nicely packed away. The woman said that a negro named Swift carried the meat there. Swift had left that morning and the telephone being out of order he couldn't be stopped. When Berry gets out of the revenue business he will likely have to face the state court. He is now in jail.

Is your house insured? If not, why not?

Eggs reached the 16 cents notch last Friday but will not likely be this high long unless the old hens decide to continue their strike.

N. C. Tankersley, an old Auraria boy, who located in Valley Mills, Tex., some years ago, has lately moved to Spring, same state.

Bob Barker and Will Brooksher were each fined one dollar and cost by Myrion Price Saturday for having a fistfight the night previous.

The amount of money Lumpkin county will have to pay the state for taxes this year is as follows: For general taxes, $4,902.14; for professional $170; polls, $1,232.

L. M. Landrum, of Rome, Ga., was in the city a short while last Friday while on his way home from a visit to relatives in this county, accompanied by his daughter.

We were informed and so stated it last week that Mr. Bainbridge, recently elected secretary of the Consolidated Co., had arrived. It is a mistake. The party believed to be him is an expert book keeper who is here investigating the books of the company.

Prof. Martin and his assistants have their hands full in instructing about 200 pupils at the public school. This institution and its instructors receive the praise of every body in Dahlonega. The high and the low, the rich and the poor all receive the same attention from the able teachers.

Gen. Warner and the Crown Mountain Co. have rented Park Street inn which will be occupied by Gen. Murray, where he will have his office and the office of the railroad company. The office of treasurer of the company will still remain where it is now—in the Moore building.

In the case of the state vs. Clyde Meaders, charged with assault with intent to murder, Judge Estes ordered the bond of $900 as fixed by Squire Allen to be raised to $750. This order was complied with on Saturday last after Dr. Stow, Mr. Rickets' physician, was examined who testified in substance that he had never apprehended any thing serious from the wound.

Prof. Stewart's horse ran away last Friday while Mrs. Stewart was driving it, but fortunately the lady succeeded in jumping out when it started without receiving any injuries. It started from near J. F. Moore's store making a short turn in the direction of home, striking a tree near Dr. Wheelchel's office, leaving one wheel, scattering parts of the buggy until running against something at the Methodist church where it finished up the job by kicking out of the harness and departed for home considerably bruised up.

The rates for messages on the Dahlonega and Gainesville telephone line are cheaper than those of the Bell Co., only costing 15 cents to Gainesville, when if one comes this way, being connected with its office in Gainesville, costs twenty cents. The benefits and conveniences can not be realized unless the telephone was taken away from us. After the death of the president we heard the news right away. Had there been no telephone line here we would not have heard of it until the Atlanta morning papers arrived the next afternoon.

New subscribers still continue to come in. The people know a good thing when they see it.

Dr. Bright, of Murphy, N. C., while over on a visit last week to his daughter, Mrs. M. N. Stow, at this place, preached two interesting sermons at the Baptist church.

F. V. Moose, residing a couple of miles from town, has had splendid luck raising tomatoes this season. Besides having all he desired for home consumption, sold $17 worth.

Mrs. Cusick, wife of Capt. Cusick, having charge of the military department here, arrived in the city last week, joining her husband who has been at his post in Dahlonega more than three months.

Nice oil table cloth 15c. Telescope valises 55 to 80c. Latest improved dash lanterns 95c. Lamps with and without shades 25 to 94c. A nice line of embroidery and insertion at B. R. Meaders & Sons.

If you need anything in the millinery line go to Mrs. Stricklands. Her fall stock is complete in every respect and prices cheaper than heretofore, having adopted a cash system it enables her to buy goods cheaper and the purchaser gets the benefit.

Marshall Grizzle and Revenue State Agent D. A. Gates, destroyed an illicit distillery up in Mill Creek district last week. The copper was a large one and the number of gallons of beer was 1,500 besides a lot of meal and other stuff.

Last Sunday and Sunday night there was preaching at the Methodist and Baptist—both white and colored, during this time a blockader in the bushes dealing out moonshine liquor to both races who indulged and didn't attend services, causing some to become juicy even before night and up to a late hour.

Jasper Satterfield comes to the front with a stalk of corn measuring 10 feet raised out on the Davis farm. This farm it seems does not only produce large corn but big snakes too. One day last week while pulling fodder in the bottom the little fice discovered a large adder. It was killed and Mr. Satterfield and his son proceeded with their work. They had not gone very far, however, until they came across a big rattler. It was also killed causing Mr. Satterfield to be very nervous, as the ground was covered with weeds nearly knee high causing it to be very dangerous at a time when snakes were so plentiful. It wasn't long until they scented another rattler he said, and left the spot. Mr. Satterfield didn't tell us so but we guess he jumped nearly half as high as the stalk of corn.

The case of the city council vs. John H. Moore for a nuisance—keeping hogs in a lot—will likely go on up to the Superior Court. He was fined $1 and cost by the mayor. The defendant appealed his case to the council which has sustained the decision of Mayor Price, and Mr. Moore has decided to have the matter investigated and passed upon by a higher official. Mr. Moore's hogs are in a lot twice the size fixed by the ordinance and carries his case up on the latter clause of the hog ordinance which reads as follows: "Hogs, however, may be enclosed in lots less than one-eighth of an acre in size." The ordinance governing the mayor is Sec. 137 which reads thus: The existence of stagnant water, or decayed vegetable matter, or animal matter, or of any offensive article or thing whatever which shall or does tend to the annoyance of the citizens generally, etc., coming under the head of nuisance. If the decision of the court below is sustained all the hog lots in Dahlonega will soon be a thing of the past as it is impossible for them to be kept in a condition so as to make them small like a German cologne manufactory.

R. C. Thomson, has gone north for a few days.

It won't be a great while now until Anderson & Jones' new store house will be ready for occupancy.

Several fine particles of gold were picked up on the streets of Dahlonega last Monday after the rain.

Mrs. Samuel Lee died last Saturday night and was buried at Hightower cemetery, in this county on Monday in the forenoon.

If you are looking for cheap goods and good goods call at Littlefield & Tates. Their fall stock is now in. Call examine goods and prices before purchasing elsewhere.

Last week Frank Meaders, of Dahlonega, went down to the horse swappers convention at Gainesville and made a race with some of the boys with his fast runner and came out winner.

Nearly all the children in town are going to school now, being a better attendance than ever before. Glad to know that parents are realizing the importance of educating their children which is offered to them free.

Two of Tate & Sons' horses fall through the little bridge at the mile post on the Clarksville road last Saturday, injuring both, one of them so badly that it could scarcely walk the next day.

Farmers are still finding a ready sale in Dahlonega for their produce, causing them to come here from many adjoining counties, the trade of which will greatly increase when we get railroad facilities.

Some of Gainesville's merchants have already said that they will move to Dahlonega as soon as the railroad reaches this place. Come along. There is room for all. Competition is the life of business.

The sending out of so many agricultural reports from Washington caused the way mails to be so large and heavy that it required two trips to take them, and worth but little after all—not one out of a dozen reads them.

It is said that there were so many intoxicated persons, both white and black, at the colored Baptist church on Sunday night that the preacher dismissed the congregation for the night and left out the next morning. The participants in the drinking will be reminded of this no doubt when court convenes.

Every time anything occurs of importance nearly the Atlanta morning papers fail to reach Dahlonega. Saturday's Constitution was received here until Monday, being twice it failed to come in on time last week. The sad news about Mr. McKinley had reached us but every body was anxious to read about it but had to wait a couple of days on account of some one's carelessness. Who it is we do not know.

W. D. Wheelchel, of Gainesville, together with his wife spent last Sunday in Dahlonega while on their way for a little outing across the Blue Ridge. Mr. Wheelchel went to college here in 1874, was clever then and is yet. In fact all clever persons than Dave Wheelchel are dead. He has many friends here who are always glad to see him. May he and his good lady have a pleasant visit and a safe return to their home.

We were pleased to notice through the Gainesville Eagle that 64 of her citizens are willing to pull the money from their pockets and assist the promoters in the proposed railroad line from Dahlonega to that city, an enterprise which is of much importance to both places. Gainesville was only asked for $15,000 and all the money has been raised there except $8,425. It is not the amount of money the company is after so much but the good will of the people and this was the only way to get it at. Capitalists don't wish to build railroads or any thing else of a public nature unless it meets the hearty approval of the citizens interested.

Rev. Alfred Reid, who used to reside in this county long years ago, returned on a visit last Saturday and preached up at Yahoola church on Sunday.

Two civil righters, one a member of the church, and maybe both, went out into the country Friday and brought in enough blockade liquor to trade on for two or three days, selling it at 80 cents per quart, allowing them a big profit and if they follow the business long and do not drink up the profits will get rich. Some mining men here had to pay one dollar per quart. This was one cause of so much drinking on Sunday. Some would watch for the marshal while others got the liquor.

A tramp printer appeared in town last week and took up quarters at the Signal office. A bed was fixed up and he eat and slept in the office. He didn't have even to send for his meals, they were carried to him, and he was living like a fighting cock. The second or third morning when his breakfast was carried in they found him not and the old fellow hasn't been heard of since. As it is an unusual thing for a printer to be treated this way it may be that he got foundered and has gone off some where and died.

Our old friend and schoolmate, Albert Wheelchel, of Anniston, Ala., came up last Sunday on a visit to the old folks at home. Albert is a good hearted, jovial fellow and we are always glad to see him. Yes, forty years ago we occupied the same bench and sit side by side studying the old blue back speller, and enjoyed those, the happiest days on earth. Later on while in school both of us, like all schoolboys do, learned to love every girl who looked pleasant at us. We were always bashful, and are yet. Albert wasn't and could always get in four words to our one while we were standing by sucking our thumb, trying to think of something to say.

One day last week after a certain young man, living over on the Chestatee river got a young lady to consent to have him, secured a jug of wine and hid it near where he was at work so that he could prepare himself to meet the occasion that night and be wedded without any embarrassment, for he was too bashful he thought to brave the storm without some kind of stimulants. During the day the rest of the hands, after seeing him go off frequently watched and soon found what it meant. So they stole his jug, drank up the wine, very much disappointing the poor fellow in his plans. And that night all these mischievous boys were on hand laughing and joking while the owner of the jug couldn't even produce a smile, looking as if he would die with embarrassment every moment.

On our first side we copy an editorial from the Signal in reference to ex-ordinary Tate, appearing in a January issue. We do not do this because of any ill will towards Mr. Tate for we have none, but do it in order to show how easy its politics changes when there is any hope of reward. Last year it didn't say a word in behalf of the democracy of the county until after the election. This can be explained when we tell you that we have the proof in black and white that its manager was to support Mr. Tate, the republican candidate, for ordinary, with an understanding that if he was elected the Signal would get all the ordinary's legal advertising (ordinaries being permitted to control their advertising and publish it in any county paper they saw proper regardless of where sheriffs publish of theirs at that time.) After the election and Mr. Tate was defeated little Billie, the baby editor, came out in gray colors for democracy and right away wanted no body elected to any office, even mayor and aldermen except democrats. Then as soon as the new officers he came in made a pull for all the legal advertising because, he said, the Signal was a democratic paper, but his effort was fruitless.

Preparations are being made to light up the Dahlonega Hotel with electric lights.

The rains this week have destroyed thousands of bundles of fodder in this section.

Twice Albert Hamilton's wife has quit him. The other day she returned and got his pistol leaving Albert with nothing to protect his life with.

J. M. Rickets, who was struck by Clyde Meaders some days ago on the head with a brick bat, has recovered so as to be able to be at his place of business again.

John Robinson's circus is billed to exhibit in Gainesville, the 25th inst. Many from Dahlonega will likely go down about that date "on business"—proposely to see the show.

As soon as the railroad bonds were signed up by president Murray last Friday Gen. Warner left with them to secure the money. After taking his departure the president died and not wishing to try to transact any business until after his burial will remain in Columbus, Ohio, until it is over. Then he will go to New York and place the bonds at once.

W. A. England, of Athens was in the city this week for the first time in 20 years, looking at the gold mines and meeting the few old people left who he was acquainted with. Mr. England was born and raised in an adjoining county and Dahlonega was the first town he ever saw. He mined here some and then went to California and followed the business there for five years.

Last Sunday Henry Edmonson got so hozy that the Marshal put him in the lock up where he remained until nearly night when he was turned out and adysied by friends to go home. The next time we saw him he was sitting on a bench out at Rices shop trying to sing a love song. He couldn't carry the tune and it went more like the noise of an old fashioned cane mill.

The only society news we have this week is that which took place last Tuesday, being an intoxicated married woman in the absence of her husband taking a ride with a almost a strange man whose eyes were dressed up in spectacles. He wasn't so handsome that we could see to cause any woman to fall in love with him unless she took a liking to those nice eye glasses he wore and the liquor he carried in a bottle. The day was rainy and disagreeable but being mostly covered with a lap robe nothing could be seen of them except their pretty little eyes and they didn't mind the weather so the wind was not blowing.

A. J. Ash, one of the most prosperous farmers residing in the county spent a short while in our office last Tuesday. If every farmer in this county worked like Mr. Ash there would never be any use of crying hard times or going west in search of a better country. Mr. Ash says that this is good enough for him, and if any one will go some twelve miles above and look at his excellent farm and the way he manages and cultivates it they will see the reason why he makes farming pay. A little more than 2 years ago he went to Tennessee and bought five bushels of Mose Early rust proof wheat. This he sowed on very poor red up land, using a small quantity of acid. From these five bushels he made 55 of wheat. Then he sowed the ground in peas which he cut for feed. The second year the same ground produced 100 bushels of wheat, and the third year it made 128 bushels and next he expects to make 200. He has made a crop of pea feed on the same spot of ground every year he says which is worth as much as the wheat. He makes wheat when every body else fails. Ten bushels of this wheat made him 400 pounds of head flour. Those not having a chance to go and look at his farm can catch an idea how he makes farming pay in this county. He raises his corn on bottom land.

The Dahlonega Camp Ground.

The above camp ground was established in 1891 by Rev. D. M. Edwards, who was pastor of the Methodist church at Dahlonega at that time. Dr. N. F. Howard donated the ground consisting of seven acres. Dr. Howard takes a great interest in this place of worship. Although blind he went up at the last meeting and preached as he had done every year since its establishment, causing unusual interest to be taken in the meeting by those of different denominations.

The Doctor has this to say in a recent letter to the Wesleyan Christian Advocate about the last meeting held at this camp ground:

"Rev. Wallace Rogers was in charge, being the only conference preacher present. He preached once or twice each day. He was assisted by the following local preachers: J. W. Boyd, N. F. Howard, J. N. Austin and W. G. Spencer. Three Baptist preachers occupied the stand one time each: Rev. Frank O'Kelley, J. W. Rider and Taylor Dowdy. The attendance was better than usual for some years, and on Saturday and Sunday very large congregations were present. The preaching was pronounced above the average. Bro. Rogers' sermon on Sunday at 11 o'clock mentioned, as it was a very excellent, able sermon. His subject was 'The Controversy Between Elijah and Ahab.' Elijah stood up and said, 'Why halt ye between two opinions, etc.' The scene of the occasion and the final result was very clearly presented to our people. Nearly the entire congregation came forward and gave their hand to express their acceptance of the truth and their faith in the church. During the camp meeting there were conversions and additions to the church. Such has been the case at each session since the establishment of the camp meeting. The order and good behavior could not be excelled. It was equal to that of any camp meeting held here. At a meeting of the tent holders it was unanimously decided that the camp meeting was a success, all present promising to be here next year and others promised to build new tents, so we shall look for great things next year."

N. F. HOWARD.

A preacher in an eastern town recently got all the women at one of his meetings to remove their hats and had no difficulty about it. He simply said: "Will all those ladies wearing $15 hats please remove them as those behind cannot see. Those who wear 50 cents hats need not bother." It is needless to say that every hat in the house came off at once.

Carrie Nation at Atlanta Fair.

Communication with the great temperance advocates and so-called "smashers" of Kansas, Mrs. Carrie Nation, has been established by the management of the Southern Inter-State Fair Association with the idea of bringing her to Atlanta for a "Carrie Nation Day" at the fair. It is more than probable that Mrs. Nation will come. This will be her first visit to the South.

Horse Show and Dog Show.

The Horse Show and the Bench Show to be given in Atlanta in connection with the Southern Inter-State Fair this year have aroused a phenomenal interest all over the South. More than a million dollars worth of dogs will be shown at the Bench Show, including all classes, and the Horse Show, it is announced, will be second to none ever seen in this country.

Hay Will Bring Good Prices.

Our northeast Georgia farmers never make more than a tenth of the hay they should on their land, and their care and harvesting of what they do raise is slovenly and wasteful. The caretaking and thoughtful farmer who realizes the importance and value of this great forage crop and raises it in abundance, will find this year that he has literally found a gold mine. State Entomologist W. M. Smith, who has just returned from the convention of the American association for the advancement of science, held in Denver, Colorado, brings the report that the hay crop of the west is almost a total loss.

Mr. Scott traveled through Colorado and other western states and gathered much information on this line that will be of interest to Georgia farmers. He found that western hay which formerly sold in the local markets at $5 a ton has advanced to $16.50. The scarcity of the hay crop he considers alarming, and it is thought by the officials of the department of agriculture that hay will sell in Georgia during the coming winter as high as $25 per ton.—Georgia Cracker.

Attention, Young Men!

The state, recognizing the necessity of your obtaining an education, has established at Dahlonega, a college where you can have the advantage of a $40,000.00 equipment and a faculty, each man a specialist in his department. Tuition is free and board is only $8.00 a month in Dormitory. It is your college, built for you, supported by you, and stands ready to help you. It is not a town school but a real college, being one of the five male colleges of the state. It costs no more to go to a real college than to one only in name. Don't cheat yourself by going to a school without library or scientific laboratories. Lumpkin county boys and girls should attend by the score. The county needs educated men and women. Invest your money in brains. Don't delay longer.

FREE FREIGHT FOR COUNTY EXHIBITS.

County exhibitors of three states, Georgia, Alabama and South Carolina, who intend to contest for the premiums at the Southern Inter-State Fair to be held in Atlanta, Ga., beginning October 9, will be able to ship exhibits free of charge over all the railroads leading into Atlanta. This is a result of the action of the Southeastern Freight Association at a recent meeting held in New York. Immediately after the close of the Atlanta fair, exhibitors in this state only will have the privilege of shipping county exhibits intact to the Savannah fair free of charge.

The result of this action on the part of the railroads has been to arouse a new interest in the two fairs. Several counties which had not intended to exhibit as counties for the prizes of $3,500 offered in Atlanta will take advantage of this concession and make exhibits. This means keener competition and a higher class of exhibits.

Since for exhibits is rapidly being taken up in Atlanta. Applications for further space and information should be addressed to Secretary T. H. Martin, Atlanta, Ga.

Chamberlain's Cough Remedy a Great Favorite.

The soothing and healing properties of this remedy, its pleasant taste and prompt and permanent cures have made it a great favorite with people everywhere. It is especially prized by mothers of small children for colds, croup and whooping cough, as it always affords quick relief, and as it contains no opium or other harmful drug, it may be given as confidently to baby as to an adult. For sale by The Matthew's Drug Co.

An exchange says: "Fence advertising, or signs painted on old barns or buildings, is the poorest of all advertising. Drive out any road and you will see that dead men and departed firms are doing as much of that kind of advertising as the living. Place your advertising in a good newspaper and see your business grow."

In Connecticut there is a man who has been made wealthy by means of a term in prison. He was convicted of forgery and sentenced to five years at hard labor. In prison he was sent to the shop. Being a bright fellow he studied the machines, and saw an opportunity for improvement in them. He went to work on an appliance to improve the machine that sews the uppers and soles together in such a manner as to double its capacity. He was discharged from custody recently. We had the invention patented, and is now in position to derive a large revenue from it. Except for his prison term he might not have amounted to anything.—Ex.

"New York alone has 4,267 saloons, more than the entire four teen southern states; Pennsylvania has 260 more than ten southern states east of the Mississippi, and New Jersey has 286 more than the two heaviest liquor selling states in the south, Louisiana and Texas, and thirty-six more than the six states of Kentucky, Tennessee, Georgia, Florida, Alabama and Mississippi. In New Jersey there is one bar to every 206 people of the population." In Mississippi, with 55,000 people less than New Jersey, there is only one saloon to every 6,000 population."

Some parties in town are making elder berry wine. This will keep them "juicy" in the absence of something stronger.

Have Faith in Yourself.

No matter how dark and discouraging the outlook may be, have faith in yourselves and in the good providence of God, and may this year bring you the fruition of your hopes, the transformation of life, which is as wonderful and yet as possible as the chance which comes to the earth in May, when the warm rains and the mounting sun suddenly work the miracle of the springtime, when the cold and barren earth, as in response to the touch of an inevitable want, blooms with verdure.—Watchman.

A man possesses fame, but this does not satisfy the cravings of his soul; he seeks sensual pleasure, and with this come repulsion and a reaction, and then, but none of these brings true happiness, for all of them are only of the external of man and not of man himself. It is only a constant seeking for something noble and better, than we can ever possess in this life, by ever seeking a fuller, truer and wider life, that we can expect to become men.—Ray, Nathaniel Mooney, Catholic, Chicago.

THE CROWN MOUNTAIN GOLD Mining & Milling Co.

The Crown Mountain properties are situated in the very heart of the Georgia gold belt and is in the radiating center of all the leading gold veins of the Dahlonega district. They embrace what is believed to be the mother lode of the Appalachian Range.

The extensive and rich ore bodies in sight upon these properties assure long continued mining operations and the indisputable guarantee of the permanent and increasing value of the stock of "The Crown Mountain Co."

The projectors of this company were the first to revive the mining interest in this district in 1896. After three years of careful and exhaustive examination of all the mines of the district of reputation as gold producers, and they had the choice of all, they selected the Crown Mountain combination as the ideal gold mine of the district which would yield or produce the most gold with the least expense. This opinion is shown by all the mining engineers, mining experts, miners and citizens of any standing in the district who are familiar with the properties. As an evidence of this we here state that more of the citizens of the town of Dahlonega and vicinity have taken stock in this company than have in all the other companies combined that have organized in the district.

The company is to be managed by practical business men—who have given much of their time to mining and mining operations, and always with unvarying success.

The present director is for the most part composed of men who have had much experience in the mining enterprises, and under its efficient and economical management, and by reason of a visible gold supply that is practically inexhaustible, an investment in the stock of this company is undoubtedly safe.

The capitalization of the company is not commensurate with the visible productiveness of the properties and is meagre compared with the capitalization of other justly celebrated mines in the district, but the management believe it will be able to make the stock worth above par.

We invite all prospective investors to make a personal inspection of the mines. We also invite them to examine all the other mines in the district—compare the quality and quantity of the ore and the facilities for economically treating the same. We have no fears of where the choice will fall.

Mr. Breymann's Report to the
D. C. G. M. Co.

TOLEDO, Ohio, Sept. 11th, 1901.
To the Directors.

Gentlemen:—As manager of the Dahlonega Consolidated Gold Mining Co., I can say at this time that the prospects of this Company, in my opinion, are very promising. What was largely guess work a year ago has now been reduced to the fact as we have just reached the expected ore vein for which we have been drifting during the last year.

On last Saturday we struck the Knight vein in the 160 foot level in the Prewitt shaft. Also struck the large body of ore in the Findley Tunnel, 400 feet below the outcropping on the mountain top. We also struck the Singleton vein on the Standard Company's property in the Tahloneka shaft. These shafts are 40 feet below the river bed, which in my opinion, is a strong indication of the continuance of these veins.

But an answer to the vexed question, can we save the gold, is what interests the most of us.

Judging from what I have seen of my amalgamator and what I know of recent inventions, I feel warranted in saying that in my opinion the problem of saving the values in these ores is solved. I might say something more encouraging were I to mention all that I believe to be true of the recent devices. I speak only of what I know.

A recent test of about 17 tons of Knight ore ran through our batteries and over the plates of our mill and through the amalgamator produced $1.00 per ton on the mill plates and $4.00 per ton in the amalgamator; whereas, ore from this vein treated by our mill alone produced only from $1.00 to $1.70 per ton.

While this amalgamator is large enough to make a real commercial test, it is too small for continuous work in connection with our stamp mill. I have now under construction a larger amalgamator which will enable me to do continuous work when installed and with great economy.

I expect to be able to install this machine within the next five weeks.

In this report of tests through the amalgamator, the value of the concentrates are not included, report of which will be submitted later.

Yours very truly,
Geo. H. BREYMAN,
General Manager.

Old soldiers are only mortal, and they die, but their pensions no not necessarily die with them; not by any means. The annual report of the commissioner of pensions shows that there are on the pension rolls more beneficiaries than there were soldiers mustered out of service at the close of the war, and after thirty-five years, payments on this amount are larger than at any previous time. This fact in itself is so presumptive of gigantic frauds that if a similar condition existed in any other department the government would exert all its remedial power to discover and bring the guilty parties to justice; but the case being as it is, officials influence is exerted in the opposite direction, and the man who honestly endeavors to check the frauds and convert the pension list into a roll of honor is threatened with the loss of his position. More Shies of Democracy
From the Signal.

As the Signal claims to be such a staunch democratic sheet we give below a few more clippings from some of its issues of last year to show that it has no firmness nor foundation about it.

Here is what it said on August 10, 1900:

"The democratic primary takes place next Wednesday. While there a number of candidates asking support before this primary we have several independents who think their chances to wear the laurels at the general election are excellent, as it is generally conceded that two-thirds of the voters of Lumpkin county are unequivocally opposed to the primary arrangement. Those who are the most worthy and competent should be elected to transact the business of our public offices, primary or no primary."

This is strange language for a democratic paper, isn't it? Not a word did it say in behalf of the county democracy until after the general election, but on the other hand threw cold water on the primary every opportunity offered. After the primary was over the following appeared in its issue of August 17, 1900:

"The democratic primary was a very quiet affair throughout the county last Wednesday. Only 455 votes were polled." Then it gave the number of votes each candidate received.

In the issue of August 24, 1900, this item appeared in that clean, democratic sheet, as little Billie calls it:

"There are three candidates for ordinary; namely, Tate, Evans and Huff. Tate is a republican, Evans is a populist, or used to be, there no populists now, and Huff is a democrat, thus it will be hard to judge who will be the successful candidate, that is to say if party lines are drawn."

The Nugget's Prosperity is Hurting the Signal.

We never read the Signal, neither do a great many other people, but have been told by one of those who does look at it occasionally, that little Billie referred to us in a slurring manner in the last issue of that paper. Well, it does not make any difference what he says about us or any one else, for the people here, know him and have no confidence in what he says or writes, and haven't since he was summoned before the grand jury of Lumpkin county, at the spring term of court, 1898, and in a drunken condition testified in some case in such a manner as to cause that body to disbelieve him, so more than one of its members have told us, and wouldn't even recommend its pressments published in the Signal at all. And of course when a person is guilty of such a thing as this he had just as soon write a lie on us or any one else as the truth. What better can be expected of the baby editor when a derby is put on him an effort made to make a manly editor out him before it is time for him to quit wearing diapers?

The members of that grand jury are the following and all yet living will remember the circumstance: J. C. Brittain, Jos. Allen, J. B. Brown, J. M. Christopher, J. B. Blackburn, J. B. Stringer, J. K. Peck, Jos. Ridley, W. H. Reid, X. G. Abernethy, L. W. Cochran, J. M. Adams, J. B. Swaney, G. W. Walker, Sr., R. N. Mays, Jas. A. Abernethy, F. G. Jones, A. L. Wiampy, J. C. Stargel, Josiah White, S. H. Kennedy, W. J. Burt, Noah White.

All Are Prospering.

One does not see so much lately about the rich growing richer and the poor growing poorer. The fact is that both classes are prospering and the poor instead of growin poorer are better off today than ever before, says the Portsmouth, (N. H.) Blade. In some manner a delusion exists that a generation or so in the past there was a golden era when the world was a great deal better off than it is today, but the historian or the political economist has never been able to locate the time. It never existed. The fact is, that the world is more comfortable than ever before. The poor have better homes and more in them. They have better food and more of it. They get more wages than ever before. A moment's reflection will show this to be the truth, in America at least. The greatest hardships known to man are those experienced in redeeming a country from a primeval state of nature. Yet that has been the problem just solved; redeeming America from the wilderness, the swamps and the deserts. Now the people are beginning to reap some of the fruits of exposure and labor. The oldest inhabitant can point to no golden age in the history of this country, where the poor were better off than they are today. On the contrary those with good memories will recall the bitter conditions of the past with anything but pleasant memories.

Hay is the Watchword.

Make hay, says the commissioner of agriculture to the farmers, in the monthly talk. Hay is what we need, and hay is what we must have if we would thrive—not the imported kind, but hay to the manner born. Sound the tocsin, let all the farmers know it, ring the bells till they rock the steeple, and let's get to work and cut our grass.

Save the hay. It will be worth sixteen dollars a ton in the fields out west this year, and that means about twenty-five dollars in Georgia. We can't buy hay at that price and prosper—we ought not to buy hay at any price.

Shoot the battle cry and pass it on. Our fields are full of it, and we are glad to see that our farmers are getting in good fashion. The hay had been struck the country, and it is a mighty good find to have. Mr. Stevens says we must cut it with mowers, and grass knives, and reapers, and anything else that will cut, and we must cut it all. Crab grass, crow foot, pea vines, and even broom sedge and wire grass—everything that will do to feed on. Hay is going to be high in Georgia, folks, and we must get in enough to feed the horse and cows through the winter.

These are beautiful days for curing it. So, make hay while the sun shines. The storms are coming, and the cool weather, when it will be too late. Fill up the loft, and it will give you a mighty comfortable feeling to know that when the fields are bleak and bare, and the cold, wintry rains beat against the barn, you can climb up and throw it out by the armful to the hungry cattle.—Ex.

THE NUGGET.

DAHLONEGA, SEPT. 27, 1901

Entered at the Dahlonega, Ga. P. O. as Second Class Matter.

Come to Dahlonega and locate. New cases of scarlet fever developed in Canton, Ga., last week.

It is said that President McKinley had $150,000 insurance on his life.

President McKinley's grave will be guarded 90 days by U. S. soldiers.

At the wedding of Miss C. E. Gordon and Mr. O. R. Brown last week in Atlanta, sixteen hundred invitations were issued.

An exhibit of Georgia's minerals will be made at Charleston. It will be very much the same that is being made at Buffalo now.

There is no room in the state asylum now, and the ordinaries have been notified not to send any more lunatics until room can be made.

On Thursday of last week at a meeting in Atlanta nearly $2,500 were raised for the McKinley monument and greatly increased since.

Czolgosz put up no defense but said he killed the President. The jury returned a verdict so and he will be electrocuted. Day not fixed yet.

It required more than 48,000 yards of black cloth for the late president as mourning. The market is now said to be sold to at least January.

C. M. Ashby, of Savannah, Ga., shot and fatally wounded his wife the other day because she had left him and was going to apply for a divorce. She since died.

The Gate City Guards were the only troops in the south that attended the president's burying, which attracted much attention and comment in the north.

If any one in Lumpkin has any local bills to present in the next Legislature, notice of the same should be published at once, as the Legislature convenes next month.

On account of the heavy rains and washouts passengers only 35 miles away had to travel 700 miles in order to reach their destination at Macon, Ga., last week. All in the southern part of the state the damage was heavy.

It would be a good idea for the people of Georgia to elect a legislature composed of levelheaded, practical business men, without political axes to grind, every ten or twelve years, to straighten out the state's business.—Dahlonega Standard.

Since his last report to the legislature, made in connection with the business of the board of pardons, Governor Chandler, acting upon the recommendation of the board, has granted sixty-four pardons, given six respites, commuted thirty-one sentences and removed the disabilities of nine applicants for executive clemency.

The line of presidential succession as fixed by act of Congress in 1886 runs thus: Vice President, Secretary of State, Secretary of the Treasury, Secretary of War, Attorney General, Postmaster General, Secretary of the Navy and Secretary of the Interior. Of the present members of the Cabinet only one is ineligible to the presidency. That one is Secretary of Agriculture James Wilson, who was born in Scotland.

The following item clipped from the Forsyth Advertiser reminds us so much of our "dry county." Monroe county is put down among the dry counties of the state. But in clearing up the courthouse after the adjournment of the recent term of the superior court, the janitor, Joe Vaughn, found in the basement of the courthouse 52 empty half pint flasks. And Joe says that there was not as much drinking as usual during this term of the court.

Mining Notes

Work still continues on the Whim Hill property.

Some profitable mining is being done at the Lumpkin mine on a small scale.

A few hands have been doing some profitable placer work on the Gordon property.

Three or four placer miners are still engaged on Cane Creek on the Walker lot, making it pay when not prevented by heavy rains and high water.

Four gentlemen from Kentucky are fitting up a process down at the Barlow which is claimed to save all the gold—a head of anything that has been invented yet.

Mr. Ashley will run his dredge boat up into the Yahoola creek very soon so as to work its rich bed. Larger boats will soon take its place in the Chetastee river.

Mr. Hutchins has bought out Mr. Edgecomb's interest in the 1846 road on lot 801 and is now running it alone with a force of those native miners about Auraria and making money.

The Standard, better known as the Singleton mill, is likely running by this time, under the supervision of Thomas Ray, an experienced miner who will make the company money if allowed his way.

The tunnel at the Findley has reached a length of about two hundred feet for the purpose of cutting the rich Findley chute. Some little sulphureted ore has been struck and a rich find is looked for every day.

There is still a delay at the Hand on account of the broken belt. A new one was received last week but instead of its being 76 feet as ordered, was only 26, causing another to have to be ordered. Another one received and work resumed.

Manager Moore of the Crown Mountain was very much surprised when his attention was called to an article in last week's Signal stating that a clean up had been made at this mine and that it was a good one. Mr. Moore says that they have made no clean up and won't before the first of the month—and then only a partial one.

The bright prospects of Crown Mountain is causing a rejoicing among all those interested in it after coming and inspecting its management and the large amount of gold that is being washed from the rich veins and soft diggings and caught in the 5000 feet of fluming and on the mill plates. The yellow metal can be seen in the crevices of the cuts, one piece picked up weighing more than a pennyweight. A new tunnel was started this week. When the hard formation is passed a giant will be used in it on the soft.

On our first page will be found the report of Manager Breyman of the Consolidated Co. to its members, which shows that he is very much encouraged with the prospects, more especially with the test made with his amalgamator. The Knight one, he says, that produced about $1.70 on the mill and $4.00 per ton on the amalgamator—total $5.70 per ton, but says nothing about the cost of working it. But they were near three weeks, it occurs to us, in treating it tons. This is the same as that president Adams said in his August report averaged on this big mill only about $1.70 per ton, while the same ore treated made an average of $11.71 by the Hix Process. But why it is that these Hix machines are not introduced in every mining section we cannot tell, if they are so wonderful. As it is we have not even heard of but one and it is at Ft. Wayne, Ind., where there is not a particle of gold. Our notion is if they will make a test of this Knight one on the old Singleton mill by one who understands it, that it will turn out more than any five dollars per ton if it contains the metal claimed for it. The plates of the Consolidated Co. have been scraped and carved about by inexperienced men until they have been ruined. This has been clearly demonstrated beyond a doubt. Months ago a test of ore made by Mr. Maxwell from the Gapps & Bowen on the little Woodward old fashioned mill, produced about twice as much gold as the same ore did on the Hand mill.

Mr. Tate Pleads Not Guilty.

Ex-ordinary Tate informs us that he did not agree, if elected, to give all the legal advertising to the Signal, as was stated in last week's NUGGET. We had no knowledge of this ourselves but stated that we had it in black and white that there was a promise out. So it seems that our informant was mistaken, but as far as the Signal's article is concerned, it speaks for itself, showing that its so called manager hoped to be rewarded, at least.

Mr. Tate makes the following certificate which we publish with pleasure:

I, W. H. C. Tate, former ordinary of Lumpkin county, do hereby certify that I never entered into a contract of any kind with the manager of the Signal or any one else to give him the legal advertising under my control.

W. H. C. Tate.
Mr. King, who worked at that office for more than a year is our author. He will be here on the third Monday in next month for the purpose of attending Lumpkin Superior Court to try and get one or two hundred dollars he says the Signal Co. is due him. Then he can speak for himself and tell you how and where he got this information he gave us.

But what about the Signal's democracy? Look on the first side of this issue and you will find some more samples clipped from that "clean, democratic sheet," as its baby editor calls it.

Card of Thanks.

We desire to express our heartfelt thanks to our many kind friends for their great kindness to us in our bereavement in the death of our little son, Wallace. We will ever cherish the thought of these friends and their kindness to us in our great loss as a sacred memento.

Very sincerely,
MR. AND MRS. G. M. EDWARDS.
Oil has been struck at Albany, Ga.

The time has come for anarchists to go.

J. M. Wilson, a leading attorney in the Schly investigation, died suddenly this week.

10,000 dew Georgia maps have had to be destroyed because Berrien county appeared in the wrong district.

The last legislature made dogs property and the first one ever sold in Georgia by an officer will take place by Sheriff Nelms in Atlanta tomorrow.

President Roosevelt says that it is his aim to be president of the whole people without regard to geographical lines or class distinction.

Irwin Baker, a negro outlaw, with a Winchester undertook to run the town of Hazlehurst, Ga., and was instantly killed and has gone the route blazed out for all such desperados.

Frost has fallen as far south as Fortsmith, Ark. It was almost cool enough in Dahlonega last week for it here but the weather has turned warmer and it is hoped that it will hold up so the farmers can complete their work first.

The treasurer of the Foreign Missionary Society has made a report for the quarter just ending showing a decrease in nearly every district, which is $456.51 less than the corresponding quarter. This district only contributed $96.24. Total of the North Georgia Conference $744.28.

Soon after the death of our president the Atlanta Journal proposed the erection of a monument with the inscription, "McKinley, the peace maker." A large amount of subscriptions have already been raised in Atlanta besides numerous contributions from various parts of the country in Georgia. A blank has been sent us and we are now ready to receive subscriptions at the Nugget office for this noble cause. Who will be the first one in Dahlonega that will send in something?

Let it Alone.

Scott's Emulsion is not a good medicine for fat folks. We have never tried giving it to a real fat person. We don't dare. You see Scott's Emulsion builds new flesh. Fat people don't want it. Strong people don't need it.

But if you are thin Scott's Emulsion is the medicine for you. It doesn't tire you out. There is no strain. The work is all natural and easy. You just take the medicine and that's all there is to it.

Asthma Cure Free!

Asthmalene Brings Instant Relief and Permanent Cure in All Cases.

SENT ABSOLUTELY FREE ON RECEIPT OF POSTAL. WRITE YOUR NAME AND ADDRESS PLAINLY.

There is nothing like Asthmalene. It brings instant relief, even in the worst cases. It cures when all else fails.
The Rev. C. F. WELLS, of Villa Ridge, Ill., says: "Your trial bottle of Asthmalene received in good condition. I cannot tell you how thankful I feel for the good derived from it. I was always a slave, chained with putrid sore throat and Asthma for ten years. I despaired of ever being cured. I saw your advertisement for the cure of this dreadful and tormenting disease, Asthma, and thought you had over-spoken yourselves, but resolved to give it a trial. To my astonishment the trial acted like a charm. Send me a full size bottle."

Rev. Dr. Morris Wechsler, Rabbi of the Cong. Bnai Israel, New York, Jan. 3, 1901.
DR. TAFT BROS. MEDICINE CO. Gentlemen: Your Asthmalene is an excellent remedy for Asthma and Hay Fever, and its composition alleviates all troubles which combine with Asthma. Its success is astonishing and wonderful. After having it carefully analyzed, we can state that Asthmalene contains no opium, morphine, chloroform or other. Very truly yours, REV. DR. MORRIS WECHSLER.

AVON SPRINGS, N. Y., Feb. 1, 1901.

DR. TAFT BROS. MEDICINE CO. Gentlemen: I write this testimony from a sense of duty, having tested the wonderful effect of your Asthmalene for the cure of Asthma. My wife has been afflicted with asthmatic neuralgia for the past 12 years. Having exhausted my own skill as well as many others, I reached to see your sign upon your windows on 150th street, New York. I at once obtained a bottle of Asthmalene. My wife commenced taking it about the first of November. I very soon noticed a radical improvement. After using one bottle her Asthma had disappeared and she is entirely free from all symptoms. I feel that I can consistently recommend the medicine to all who are afflicted with this distressing disease. Yours respectfully, O. D. PHELPS, M. D.

DR. TAFT BROS. MEDICINE CO. Gentlemen: I was troubled with Asthma for 22 years. I have tried numerous remedies, but they have all failed. I ran across your advertisement and started with a trial bottle. I found relief at once. I have now purchased your full size bottle, and I am very grateful. Give family of four children and for six years was unable to work. This testimony you can make such use of as you see fit. Home address, 235 Livingston St. S. RAPHAEL, 67 East 126th St., City.

TRIAL BOTTLE ABSOLUTELY SENT FREE ON RECEIPT OF POSTAL. Do not delay. Write at once, addressing DR. TAFT BROS. MEDICINE CO., 79 East 130th Street, N. Y. City.

THE NUGGET

DAHLONEGA, SEPTEMBER 27 1906

Is your house insured? If not why not?

Can you afford to take all the risk of loss by fire or lightning?

Prof. V. R. Iix has been elected to take charge of Liberty school in Dawson county.

Prof. Colvin stuck a nail in his foot last Friday, causing him to have to go slow and use a stick for several days.

Auction—Household Furniture Goods, etc., at Park Street Inn today (Friday the 27th inst.) at 10 o'clock, a. m.

Mr. Breyman, general manager of the Consolidated Co., returned last week from a few days visit to the north.

P. Davidson, who did business here for several months in the photography business, visited his brother last Sunday.

Two negro women, Mary Lou and Albert Hamilton's wife fought the other night. Cause: Albert had been walking with Miss Mary.

Students will find college letter heads and envelopes at J. F. Moores, also Corona and Phi Mu Society stationery, both nice, good and cheap.

The female preacher has just made a tour through Union county. She didn't preach much on this trip however, as she went to see her kinfolks more than anything else.

Marshal Grizzle destroyed another large illicit distillery out in Nimbilwell a few days ago, capturing Roe Pickle and Wellborn Grizzle. The copper held 70 gallons.

One day last week a certain young man was seen carrying off two respectable females in a buggy in the direction of Tennessee in search of greener fields from this county. There are a few others left who could be spared.

It won't be long now until the farmers will commence cutting their cane and manufacturing syrup. Then what a joyous time the young folks will have at the old fashioned candy pullings. Don't you wish to be a boy again on such occasions? We do.

If you need anything in the millinery line go to Mrs. Stricklands. Her fall stock is complete in every respect and prices cheaper than heretofore, having adopted a cash system it enables her to buy goods cheaper and the purchaser gets the benefit.

Rev. Taylor Dowdy was re-elected pastor of Oak Grove church again last Saturday, being the seventh year in succession that he has served the members of that church in this capacity. The conduct at this church has always been good, no one having ever conducted themselves in such a manner at this place of worship as to cause a single case in court that we can remember of.

One night last week Alonzo Benson, whose duty it was to remain at the head of one of the mine lines at the Crown Mountain mine and clear the flume of roots, dropped off to sleep while squatted down and didn't wake until the flume choked up and the water commenced rising on his body. Had he been hard to wake the water might have rose on him and Benson would have been no more.

Last Friday between two and three o'clock postmaster Tate at Dahlonega received a statement saying that the mail carrier from Gainesville, being a new one, had taken the wrong road this side of Gainesville and gone on to Land, Ga., in Hall county, where he was told of his mistake and put on the route towards Dahlonega. He arrived here about the usual time but missed all the way postoffices, causing the postmasters and patrons along the line to be disappointed for the first time in many years. The carrier was on the right route on Saturday and we guess he got through all right.

The weather has been fine this week for fodder pullers and brick manufacturers.

There was said to be some ice one morning last week across the Blue Ridge in Union county.

Several parties went from Dahlonega to Gainesville Wednesday to see the elephant and clown.

We can furnish the Atlanta Twice a Week Journal and the Nugget at $1.50. Or either one of the papers for one dollar. If you are not already a subscriber send in.

We are told that no more Peruna will be sold in Dahlonega on Sunday. If a person wants to get on a Sunday drink he must lay in his supply before 12 m. Saturday night.

The students were entertained last Saturday night at the residence of R. C. Thomson by the Dahlonega Epworth League, where all enjoyed themselves until a late hour.

A party who returned from a visit to Dawson county last week informed us that Mrs. William Hughes of that county was stricken with paralysis a few days ago and not expected to live.

The negroes have decided to have no campmeeting up at "Lizard Lake" this year, only a one day meeting. This will be a great disappointment to some of the blockaders who have been supplying the demands at this camp ground for years.

It is said that Albert Hamilton, col., and his wife opened this year's fall fights last Sunday. We did not learn who came out winner. Albert has had a good deal to contend with and ought to be excused for a fight like this, especially when it is the fall opening.

We noticed a farmer coming into town the other day with a load of fodder and his wife on behind with a load of produce. Such industrious people as these can live and prosper in any country. This is an example for those who are crying out hard times. Times are hard any where for lazy people.

In reply to the party asking us to send him the Nugget and he would pay us the money at the end of the year, will state that we do not care to accept any such subscriptions. When a person makes such a proposition as this it is his intention in nearly every case to deal beat us. We depend on our work for a living and do not want dead beats names on our book at all.

In a few more days the city council will meet and pass upon the ordinance that is before it to prevent dogs from howling within the corporate limits of nights. We don't know who introduced it or how it will go but if such a law becomes of force this squealing so called vocal music at a late hour should be stopped, for it causes much disturbance as howling dogs and is more frequent. What next?

Mr. Ashley was preparing to run his dredge boat up the Yahoola creek several days ago and got an order from Judge Huff to raise the Yahoola bridge near the mouth of the river, which would have caused a delay in passage for some two or three days, but he has been unable to do so yet and removed the notices. The plan was to raise the bridge so he could pass and then fill in on either side with gravel so it could be crossed during high water.

Old Uncle Bill Grizzle is a good old man, as everybody in this section knows. It is said that he attended a foot washing recently over in Gaddistown and after the old man had washed several persons feet and the business got dull he requested that if there was anybody in the church who wanted their feet washed either a boy or a man for them to come forward and he would attend to them. A barefooted lad who did not belong to the church, and whose feet had not been washed this summer came forward and Uncle Billy went to rubbing and was about exhausted when he completed the job.

Dr. Cravens, of Chicago, in company with Joseph Miller, of Aurora, paid Dahlonega a flying visit last Sunday.

So far all the students are very quiet and orderly, apparently having come for business instead of pleasure. If they will stick to this it will please both parents and teachers and be of great benefit to them in the end.

Parents should keep their boys in at night and out of bad company as much as possible. Some of them are learning to tip the glass very rapidly and after awhile it will be too late. The boys are deceiving you now but the sad news will reach their parents by and by.

To see that young lad escorting a woman of bad character around in the outskirts of town last Saturday night was a sad looking sight. To think that a boy will get stuck on a woman of this kind is astonishing and will eventually wind up by both going to the chain gang if they don't change their course.

R. L. McCabe, of Ohio, came down this week and took a peep at the operations of Crown Mountain gold mine in which he is interested and is highly elated over his investment, as plenty of gold can be seen with the natural eye and its management is so good that none who have examined the operations have a single suggestion to make that would add anything of benefit.

Last Sunday was an unusually dry day with most drinkers. Nothing but wine scarcely could be obtained to wet their whistles with. Blackberry wine is doing as much damage in this "dry town" of ours as the liquor manufactured by the moonshiner. It would astonish those not acquainted to know the amount of Peruna, lemon extract and other drugs as a beverage in Dahlonega.

Some time ago some barrels were stolen from the Garnett mine located a few miles above Dahlonega which is in charge of Lew Christy. Suspicion rested on certain parties who had been engaged in the blockade liquor business. In looking about in the woods afterwards he found them covered up in some leaves and at once took charge of them. So the other Sunday while returning from church he came in contact with one or more of these parties and talked to them in a pretty rough manner. Then striking up with the preacher and being in bad humor cursed him out so we are told. The preacher said but little as Lew is about a two hundred pounder and more than six feet tall and looks pretty scary when he is angry, has a fist like a sledge hammer and could smash a little fellow's head as flat as a piece of iron if he was to take a notion.

As stated last week some meat was stolen from a party a few weeks ago in White county, and it was found at the home of Berry Underwood, col., in Dahlonega, who was then under arrest and now in Fulton county jail charged with making and dealing in moonshine liquor. Berry's wife said that it was brought there by another negro named Wm. Swift, who was then absent. Later in the week Prof. Johnson, who lost the meat, came down, identified it and carried the good old country bacon home. On last Saturday afternoon Swift slipped in at Berry's whose wife entertained Mr. Swift while she sent a runner up to notify Marshal Harbison, thinking by this action that it would be lighter on her husband in the final wind up. The marshal notified sheriff Davis and it was not long until the gentleman of color was making his way to the jail under the escort of the two officials, and next day the sheriff of White came down and went back Swiftly to Cleveland. The meat was cut into slices so it could be put into a valise or sack and Prof. Johnson says that the spot where it was carried up showed that there were two engaged in it.

An infant of Marion Head died last Friday.

It will be seen that some of the citizens of Mill Creek district also want the stock law. Notice will be found elsewhere.

Those who have not paid their city taxes had better bear in mind that the book closes Monday night next as fixed by law.

There was said to be a little frost one morning last week in this county, at the foot of the Blue Ridge. Not heavy enough, however, to do any damage.

The day before Mrs. J. H. Harris took her departure for Ducktown, Tenn., the lady visited our office and handed as a dollar for a year's subscription to the Nugget, saying that it was her choice of the two Dahlonega papers.

The Billie Editor of the Signal left his paper in the hands of the "devil" this week and went down to the show at Gainesville to take some lessons from the clown Wednesday so as to add a wit and humor department to the Signal.

It is said that Bob Beck, formerly of this county, joined church in Hall county some days ago, who stated when he was baptized that he was called to preach. Bob has been pretty wayward and if he has recently conducted himself so as to be called to preach there ought to be some hope of county editors being saved.

Capt. Asbury, of White county, was in the city last Monday accompanied by Prof. Boyd and Englishman by birth, who has a laboratory up on Cavender's Creek, costing about $1,500, making tests of ores that are being taken out of that mine. A considerable amount of development work is being done, says Capt. Asbury, and the shows are good. The professor will likely rent a house and locate for a while in Dahlonega.

Dr. K. O. Carter, of Barnesville, and lady who have been spending the summer at Porter Springs, were in Dahlonega for a few hours last Tuesday. The doctor used to live in Dahlonega and always makes it convenient to pay the place an annual visit while up at Porter for his health, and we are truly glad to have him with us. The doctor has not been in very good health, and stated while enroute for this county driving through the country that he felt improved each day while making the trip.

The Atlanta Constitution having failed to arrive by mail at Dahlonega several times this year and twice in the same week the president died, and the last time that morning's extra Atlanta Journal reaching us the same day promptly, besides the Macon Telegraph, published 103 miles below Atlanta, came through the same day, and those taking the Constitution at Auraria, in this county, getting theirs by the same mail that ought to have brought the package of Constitutions for Dahlonega, caused us to write a letter to Postmaster Farrow at Gainesville to enquire if he knew where the trouble lay. The Colonel promptly replied that he did not but would make an investigation. He also stated that he was allowed $75 per month for clerk hire and was adding to that $45 per month out of his own pocket, making $120 per month for clerk hire so as to be able to secure three of the most worthy and competent young men in order to run his office well and did not think the fault was there. In addition to this the Colonel stated that the train was sometimes late at Gainesville and the schedule between that place and Dahlonega provides that the carrier shall leave that office after the morning train not later than eleven o'clock. If that train is on time they have about ten minutes more than is absolutely needed. But if it is behind ten or fifteen minutes then his office is compelled to do one of the other two things—let the Dahlonega mail leave on scheduled time or assume the responsibility of holding back the carrier a few minutes to get the mail that comes on that train.

Miss Bessie Adams, of Demorest was among the visitors here last week.

Misses Pauline and Katharine Wilson, have returned to their home in Baltimore.

It required $30 to pay Will Brooksher's fine and cost for going over into Dickens county with a pair of knuckles.

J. H. McKee will sell you two pounds of Arbuckle coffee for 25c. 15 pounds Standard Granulated Sugar for $1.00.

The little five year old boy of Mr. and Mrs. G. M. Edwards died in Dahlonega last Sunday morning and was carried to White county for interment.

A damage suit has been entered against the Standard G. M. Co. by W. J. Loyless, of Dahlonega, for $8,000 Dean & Hobbs, Gainesville, attorneys.

Cicero Raym and Jeff Stancel, latter the Squire of Chestatee district, were arrested by Marshal Spence and Collector Spence while working in an illicit distillery Tuesday.

The cry comes from every part of the state for farmers to save their grass. There is being but very little saved in the west and if our farmers fails to take care of their hay they will regret it.

Last Saturday Rev. D. M. Grizzle was elected as pastor of Mill creek church. There were other ministers wanted by some but this divine offered his services for nothing, being close by, resulting in his selection.

It is reported here that Susan Elrod of Lumpkin county was wedded a short time ago to John Hays, of Ducktown, Tenn. The bride has many admirers in and about Dahlonega who will regret to hear this news.

Marshal Grizzle is now busy summoning witnesses for the U. S. Court which convenes early in next month in Atlanta, just in time for a good many blockaders to have to quit business and spend Christmas in Fulton county or some other jail.

Nineteen persons were baptized at Mill Creek last Sunday, three minister being chosen by the converts to perform the ceremony. One by Grizzle, 7 by Higgins and 11 by Blackburn. The best of order prevailed. Not a drop of liquor could be smelt on any one, being something unusual at this place.

Gen. Warner is now still absent in the interest of the Gainesville and Dahlonega Electric Railway. Mr. Carlyle, who was expecting to begin work on the power plant at the Dunlap shoals first of October, is down with the fever at Gainesville, but another man will take charge and carry the work on promptly, so we are told by one of the directors of the railway line.

One night last week religious services were held at the colored Methodist church. In a short while afterwards a musical entertainment was given at one of the sisters close by, which had a larger attendance than the church services, enjoying it much more than the latter on account of feeling the effects of the liquor they had drank, causing it to be very discouraging to the poor preacher for the money he thought he ought to have had was spent for liquor.

The night before Pink Childers was going to move off from Shoal Creek district in this county last week, several of his neighbors went over to bid Mr. Childers adieu. While congregated a row occurred between Charlie Stringer and Lawson Teal and Teal was out on the arm pretty badly with a knife by Stringer. Then the rocks began to fly and that Teal was accidentally struck on the head with one by his brother, causing him to drop and look for awhile like the undertaker would have to be sent for. More business for court.

Don't be a Knocker.

If your neighbor is prosperous, let him prosper. Don't grunt, growl or grumble. Say a good word for him and let it go at that. Don't be a knocker. No man is the whole show. If you see the city moving nicely, feel good about it. Hold things along. Shove a little. Push. Try and get some benefit yourselves. Don't waste your time feeling sore because some fellow has a little more sand and sense than you have. Do a little hustling yourself. Don't be a knocker. If you can say a good word, say it like a prince. If you are full of bile and disposed to say something mean keep your mouth shut. Don't be a knocker. No man can ever get rich or happy minding everybody's business but his own. No man ever helped himself permanently by knocking his neighbor down. Give a kind word. Give it liberally. It won't cost you a cent and you may want one yourself some day. Some had thousands one year and the next they were without [the price of a shave. So don't be a knocker. You can't afford it. It won't pay. There is nothing in it. If you want to throw something at somebody just throw your patronage this way. But don't throw bricks bats or mud. Don't be a knocker. You will get there just the same.

—Alyn Sun.

They are in Every Town.

People who wishes to be enterprising until it begins to look as if it might cost something.

People who want good public buildings if they can be had without increasing the taxes.

People who do not go to church because they do not like the minister; others because the contribution box is passed.

People who wish some one would open up another store, shop or market, because they are unable to get trusted any longer by those already doing business.

People who will tell you what your neighbor says about you if you will promise not to tell who told you.

People who want good walks and streets, provided they are not taxed to pay for them.

Men who do not need to work because their wives or mothers are supporting them.

Girls who have nothing to do but dress, fix up, walk around, try to look pretty, and catch a bean.

Women who do not make their homes pleasant for husbands and children, because they must be continually away attending societies or to other people's affairs.

—The New South.

State School Commissioner Glenn in his recent report to the governor says that instead of a million and a half dollars for common schools we need at least three millions to-day, and that the teachers' salaries should be increased from a week to at least two and the expenses of the same raised to $100. It takes a heap of money for Commissioner Glenn. Poor people can scarcely raise the taxes required of them now. If taxes are raised any more widows and many other poor old people possessing only a little home will have to let them be sold to raise their little taxes. Divide the thing a little. If people are driven out homeless what good or comfort would it be to them even if their children had a collegiate education? Keep an eye on the parents' interests as well as the children's.

Attention, Young Men!

The state, recognizing the necessity of your obtaining an education, has established at Dahlonga, a college where you can have the advantage of a $40,000.00 equipment and a faculty, each man a specialist in his department. Tuition is free and board is only $8.00 a month in Dormitory. It is your college, built for you, supported by you, and stands ready to help you. It is not a town school but a real college, being one of the five male colleges of the state. It costs no more to go to a real college than to one only in name. Don't cheat yourself by going to a school without library or scientific laboratories. Lumpkin county boys and girls should attend by the score. The county needs educated men and women. Invest your money in brains. Don't delay longer.

Great Sham Battle at Atlanta.

One of the greatest and grandest military pageants and sham battles ever held in the South will probably be one of the principal attractions at the Inter-State Fair in Atlanta, which begins on October 9th. Plans are now being made to bring the Fifth Georgia and the Third Georgia Regiments, commanded respectively by Colonel Park Woodard of this city and Colonel Thomson of Madison, together. This will mean nearly two thousand men in action and the effect will be gorgeous.

Hitherto sham battles at Atlanta have always been held in daytime. It is the purpose in this case, however, to hold the battle inside the race track at night. The great arena-like opening will be lighted brilliantly by red lights, lending a glow of gorgeous coloring to the uniforms. Forts will be erected on opposite sides of the race track and in the battle each side will maneuver so as to attempt the capture of the opposite fort. Immediately the forts are captured they will be blown up in real war fashion, and then will follow an elaborate fireworks display.

Altogether nothing ever shown at an Atlanta Fair will have the spectacular splendor of this mimic war, if all the plans succeed. During the day of the battle the soldier boys will be the guests of the fair management at a barbecue.

Chamberlain's Cough Remedy a Great Favorite.

The soothing and healing properties of this remedy, its pleasant taste and prompt and permanent cures have made it a great favorite with people everywhere. THE CROWN MOUNTAIN GOLD

Mining & Milling Co.

The Crown Mountain properties are situated in the very heart of the Georgia gold belt and is in the radiating center of all the leading gold veins of the Dahlonga district. They embrace what is believed to be the mother lode of the Appalachian Range.

The extensive and rich ore bodies in sight upon these properties assure long continues mining operations and the indisputable guarantee of the permanent and increasing value of the stock of 'The Crown Mountain Co.'

The projectors of this company were the first to revive the mining interest in this district in 1896. After three years careful and exhaustive examination of all the mines of the district of reputation as gold producers, and they had the choice of all, they selected the Crown Mountain combination as the ideal gold mine of the district which would yield or produce the most gold with the least expense. This opinion is shown by all the mining engineers, mining experts, miners and citizens of any standing in the district who are familiar with the properties. As an evidence of this we here state that more of the citizens of the town of Dahlonga and vicinity have taken stock in this company than have in all the other companies combined that have organized in this district.

The company is to be managed by practical business men—who have given much of their time to mining and mining operations, and always with unvarying success.

The present directory is for the most part composed of men who have had much experience in the mining enterprises, and under its efficient and economical management, and by reason of a visible gold supply that is practically inexhaustible, an investment in the stock of this company is undoubtedly safe.

The capitalization of the company is not commensurate with the visible productiveness of the properties and is meagre compared with the capitalization of other justly celebrated mines in the district, but the management believe it will be able to make the stock worth above par.

We invite all prospective investors to make a personal inspection of the mines. We also invite them to examine all the other mines in the district—compare the quality and quantity of the ore and the facilities for economically treating the same. We have no fears of where the choice will fall.
